Curbing Campaign Cash Henry Ford, Truman Newberry, and the Politics of Progressive Reform

Paula Baker

“Scandals over money in politics are nothing new. Curbing Campaign Cash provides keen historical insight into the earliest efforts to set limits on campaign financing and how that affected one of the most controversial campaigns for the United States Senate.”—Donald A. Ritchie, author of Electing FDR: The New Deal Campaign of 1932

“A fascinating account of one of the more sensational Senate elections of the twentieth century and a crucial episode in the history of campaign finance.”—Lewis L. Gould, author of Four Hats in the Ring: The 1912 Election and the Birth of Modern American Politics

208 pages, 12 photographs, Cloth $29.95

The Real Making of the President Kennedy, Nixon, and the 1960 Election

W. J. Rorabaugh

“An unvarnished account of the 1960 presidential election that skewers Theodore White’s adoring portrayal of John F. Kennedy.”—Library Journal

“Captures the interplay of money, power, and politics in the 1960 election and brings a fresh eye and new material to an election that has taken on mythic proportions in the American imagination.”—Donald T. Critchlow, author of The Conservative Ascendancy

American Presidential Elections

Landmark Law Cases and American Society Peter Charles Hoffer and N.E.H. Hull, series editors

Fighting Foreclosure The Blaisdell Case, the Contract Clause, and the Great Depression

John A. Fliter and Derek S. Hoff

“An engaging and wide-ranging history and doctrinal analysis of an important case that also explains why Blaisdell is relevant to the present mortgage foreclosure crisis.”—William G. Ross, author of The Chief Justiceship of Charles Evans Hughes

224 pages, Cloth $34.95, Paper $19.95

Gitlow v. New York Every Idea an Incitement

Marc Lendler

“Combining exhaustive research with perceptive analysis, Lendler’s study brings home that the case was not an easy one about freedom for innocuous speech but freedom to advocate overthrowing the American constitutional order.”—John Earl Haynes, author of Red Scare or Red Menace?

184 pages, Cloth $34.95, Paper $17.95

Prigg v. Pennsylvania Slavery, the Supreme Court, and the Ambivalent Constitution

H. Robert Baker

“Until Dred Scott came along, Prigg was the most important slave case decided by the U.S. Supreme Court. Jurisprudentially it is perhaps even more important than Dred Scott and it’s wonderful to have a book on the case that helps explain it and places it in historical context.”—Paul Finkelman, author of Slavery and Founders: Race and Liberty in the Age of Jefferson

The Public and Its Problems

An Essay in Political Inquiry

John Dewey
Edited with an introduction by Melvin L. Rogers

"Scholars and teachers will welcome Melvin Rogers's new edition of John Dewey's The Public and Its Problems. The introduction and annotations are sophisticated, illuminating, elegant, and accessible. Masterfully situating Dewey in his historical context, Rogers persuasively shows that The Public and Its Problems remains a radically democratic book. This is the best edition available of Dewey's most important political philosophical work."

—Jack Turner,
University of Washington

208 pages | $20.95 paper

Feminist Interpretations of Thomas Hobbes

Edited by Nancy J. Hirschmann and Joanne H. Wright

Feminist Interpretations of Thomas Hobbes features the work of feminist scholars who are centrally engaged with Hobbes's ideas and who view Hobbes as an important touchstone in modern political thought. Bringing together scholars from the disciplines of philosophy, history, political theory, and English literature, this interdisciplinary collection aims to appeal to an audience of Hobbes scholars and nonspecialists alike.

272 pages | $79.95 cloth
Re-Reading the Canon Series

Kant's Political Theory

Interpretations and Applications

Edited by Elisabeth Ellis

"One of the really remarkable aspects of political philosophy over the last three or four decades—spanning Arendtian, Habermasian, and Rawlsian theory—has been the stunning revival of interest in Kantian political thought. Elisabeth Ellis has put together a collection of essays featuring many of the most prominent and influential contributors to recent scholarship on Kant, thereby helping us appreciate why themes from Kantian political reflection (focusing on liberal justice and autonomy) are back on the radar screen of contemporary theorists and why they are very likely to remain there."

—Ronald Beiner,
University of Toronto

264 pages | $64.95 cloth

Condorcet

Writings on the United States

Edited, translated, and with an introduction by Guillaume Ansart

"The volume is a vital, genuinely original contribution to the literature on Condorcet's political thought—and how he applied his general views on republicanism and constitutionalism to the case of the United States—as well as on early European responses to American constitutional development."

—Eileen Botting,
University of Notre Dame

160 pages | $62.95 cloth

Bribes, Bullets, and Intimidation

Drug Trafficking and the Law in Central America

Julie Marie Bunck and Michael Ross Fowler

"There is nothing like Bribes, Bullets, and Intimidation in drug-control literature. . . . The authors make their subject a compelling story, one that is essential to an understanding of recent and contemporary Central America. Julie Bunck and Michael Fowler's exceptional study will appeal to both students and scholars in various disciplines, including history, political science, sociology, and criminal justice."

—William O. Walker III,
University of Toronto

448 pages | 26 illus./8 maps | $89.95 cloth

Care Work and Class

Domestic Workers' Struggle for Equal Rights in Latin America

Merike Blofield

"Merike Blofield's well-crafted book tackles an understudied yet highly relevant topic, offering a finely nuanced analysis of why domestic workers' rights are ignored despite decades of democracy in Latin America. Care Work and Class breaks new ground by revealing the conditions under which legal reform occurs, but it also shows when and why laws that protect domestic workers are actually enforced."

—Susan Franceschet,
University of Calgary

200 pages | $64.95 cloth

The Evolving Citizen

American Youth and the Changing Norms of Democratic Engagement

Jay P. Childers

"We need to understand how youths experience their own citizenship if we want to reform education and politics. Because The Evolving Citizen draws on the students' own voices and ideas, interpreted insightfully, it is a valuable and skillful contribution to our understanding of citizenship today. It is a significant book—methodologically innovative, persuasive, and carrying an important message."

—Peter Levine, Tufts University

Rhetoric and Democratic Deliberation Series

Rhetorical Citizenship and Public Deliberation

Edited by Christian Kock and Lisa Villadsen

"Ranging widely and effectively in time, space, cases, and theory, Rhetorical Citizenship and Public Deliberation shows how and why rhetoric must be central to the practice of politics and citizenship in contemporary democracies. An impressive and strikingly original set of contributions sheds new light on the possibilities for public deliberation."

Take Back the Center

Progressive Taxation
for a New Progressive Agenda

Peter S. Wenz

"In this lucid, hopeful book, Peter Wenz offers both a nuanced critique of the anti-egalitarian, non-democratic state of the contemporary U.S. and, more importantly, a pragmatic vision for how a return to progressive taxation could substantially redress these ills. Let the conversation continue."

— Doug McAdam, Stanford University

Liberating Kosovo

Coercive Diplomacy and U.S. Intervention

David L. Phillips

foreword by Nicholas Burns

"This diplomatic history both sheds light on events in Kosovo and informs future mediation. It highlights the importance of careful analysis in order to understand the root causes of conflict and devise sustainable solutions."

—Marti Ahtisaari, Chairman of the Board of Crisis Management Initiative, former Special Envoy of the UN Secretary-General for the future status process for Kosovo, Nobel Peace Prize Laureate 2008
Belfer Center Studies in International Security • 256 pp., $27 cloth

Open for Business

Conservatives' Opposition to Environmental Regulation

Judith A. Layzer

"A fascinating look at how conservatives and conservation came to be at odds. Given the mounting toll from global warming, and Washington's inaction, it couldn't be more timely."

— Bill McKibben, author Eaarth: Making a Life on a Tough New Planet

American and Comparative Environmental Policy series
496 pp., 2 illus., $35 cloth

Cyberpolitics in International Relations

Nazli Choucri

"This book is an imaginative, skillful integration of the key concerns of international relations and the burgeoning scholarship on new communication technologies. Nazli Choucri argues convincingly that understanding international politics must now take into account the great changes in global communication of the past two decades. A timely and refreshing book, and one that reveals how digital media are reconfiguring many of the classic themes of international relations theory."

— Andrew Chadwick, Department of Politics and International Relations, Royal Holloway, University of London

312 pp., 19 illus., $27 paper

Economy in Society

Essays in Honor of Michael J. Piore

edited by Paul Osterman

"Michael Piore has made major contributions to our understanding of labor and labor markets over the course of his long and illustrious career. The chapters in this volume represent authoritative statements about many of these topics. This valuable book both honors Piore and extends the discussion of these important issues in significant ways."

— Arne L. Kalleberg, Kenan Distinguished Professor of Sociology, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

The Technology of Nonviolence

Social Media and Violence Prevention

Joseph G. Bock

foreword by John Paul Lederach

"Keeping a firm focus on actual violence prone localities, this book gently takes us along a variety of early warning and response systems, weaving in actionable theory as well as the latest technological prospects. It stands out for its accessibility, view of the affected communities as actors and ability to engage the reader. Highly recommended to decision-makers and practitioners for its insights into set-up options and its quality to inspire action research."

— Kristel Maasen, former director of the Early Warning for Violence Prevention project, Foundation for Tolerance International, Kyrgyzstan

Integrating Climate, Energy, and Air Pollution Policies

Gary Bryner with Robert J. Duffy

"This book makes vividly clear that we cannot expect to achieve our alternative energy, clean air, and climate change goals outside of a more integrated and future oriented policy framework. This is an important message for all concerned. The case is made through rich examples of the roots of the three policy areas and how they have evolved independently only to fall short in achieving today's goal of sustainable development, which requires dramatic reduction in air emissions combined with economic development, not just for today but for generations to come."

— Daniel Mazmanian, Sol Price School of Public Policy, The University of Southern California
