ABOUT CIRS

Established in 2005, the Center for International and Regional Studies (CIRS) at Georgetown University in Qatar is a premier research institute devoted to the academic study of regional and international issues through dialogue and exchange of ideas, research and scholarship, and engagement with scholars, opinion makers, practitioners, and activists.

RESEARCH & PUBLISHING OPPORTUNITIES

To contribute to the existing body of knowledge on issues related to the Gulf region, and the broader Middle East, CIRS engages in original research initiatives. Visit the website to submit papers for possible publication, or to download free academic articles.

Join us for the 16th American Political Science Association (APSA) Teaching & Learning Conference (TLC). The conference will take place February 7-9, 2020 in Albuquerque, New Mexico, to explore the conference theme, "Teaching to Empower Students." As students encounter an often tumultuous reality that includes an evolving academy, uncertain job markets, and an increasingly contentious political sphere, how can we empower them to thrive in their educational and individual pursuits and ensure that they are prepared to solve tomorrow's problems?
