ALLOTT'S
ESSAYS IN AFRICAN LAW

WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO
THE LAW IN GHANA

By Dr. A. N. ALLOTT, M.A., Ph.D., Lecturer in African Law at the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London.

These essays deal, in general terms, with the relation of English and native systems of law throughout Africa, although five of the eleven essays deal specifically with the law in Ghana. All who are concerned with African Law — judges, practitioners, teachers and students will find a great deal to interest them in this book.

CONFERENCE ON THE FUTURE OF THE LAW IN AFRICA

A Record of the proceedings of this conference, which is a highlight in the progress of the law in Africa, is at present being prepared by Dr. A. N. Allott, M.A., Ph.D., by arrangement with the Editorial Committee and the Publishers of the Journal of African Law. It is being produced in a similar style to that of the journal, and will run to at least 64 pages.

For particulars of the publishing date and the price, etc., please write to your nearest Butterworth office or to the address below.
