New from CPD Online

CPD ONLINE

CPD Online is an e-learning resource offered by the Royal College of Psychiatrists. The website contains a range of learning modules and podcasts that provide a flexible, interactive way of keeping up to date with progress in mental health. College members may use CPD Online for up to 25 CPD points in the UK. Access to the modules is through annual subscription, but we offer a series of free trial modules. For more information, visit the CPD Online website: www.psychiatrycpd.org.

Recent and revised modules

Going into private or medico-legal practice

When setting up in private or medico-legal practice it is not enough to show willing and charge money. This module will teach you about some of the common pitfalls when starting up a practice and why you may be in danger of breaking the law if you do not know what you are doing. You will learn how to make what you do pleasurable, lawful and profitable and gain a good understanding of the laws and conventions of the field. CPD Credits: 1

Psychiatric intensive care

Psychiatric intensive care units (PICUs) are hospital wards for the short-term management of people in an acutely disturbed (often aggressive) phase of a serious mental disorder. Patients are usually detained under the Mental Health Act. This module describes what a PICU is and how it differs from other wards, and considers common clinical and demographic features of PICU patients and best clinical practice in the PICU. CPD Credits: 1

Podcast Refractory psychosis: challenges in research and treatment

In this podcast Dr Fiona Gaughran, the lead consultant in the UK's National Psychosis Service, discusses refractory psychosis with Dr Ali Ajaz, providing an understanding of what it is and the challenges related to research in this field. CPD Credits: 0.5

Basics of geriatric medicine [Revised & updated]

The interface between psychogeriatrics and geriatric medicine is complex, particularly with overlapping presentations of mental and physical illness. This module offers basic strategies for old age psychiatrists to better understand symptoms, perform structured examinations, arrive at differential diagnosis and interpret investigations, allowing them to manage common physical illnesses in the elderly. CPD Credits: 1.5
