Figuratively Speaking

ROBERT J. FOGELIN

In this engaging and provocative book, Robert J. Fogelin examines figures of speech that concern meaning — irony, hyperbole, understatement, similes, metaphors and others — to show how they work and why they are so appealing to us. Building on the ideas of philosophers such as H. P. Grice and Ludwig Wittgenstein, he contends that figurative language derives its power from its insistence that the reader participate in the text, looking beyond the literal meaning of the figurative language to the meanings that are implied. 128pp. £7.95

Nonduality

A Study in Comparative Philosophy
DAVID LOY

The nonduality of subject and object, of self and world, is central to the most important systems of Asian philosophy and religion. This book is the first to examine thoroughly and demystify that concept. Loy explains what Buddhist, Taoist, and Advaitic sages have thought about nonduality and also identifies references to nonduality in the work of Western thinkers from Heraclitus to the present, with lengthy discussions of Nietzsche, Heidegger, and Derrida. 352pp. £25.00

Art and Beauty in the Middle Ages

UMBERTO ECO

translated by Hugh Bredin

A learned summary of medieval aesthetic ideas from this celebrated Italian novelist and philosopher. 141pp. Now in paper, £4.95

William James

His Life and Thought

GERALD E. MYERS

The first comprehensive interpretive and critical study of one of America's foremost philosophers and psychologists.

"Myers's monumental examination of James's life and thought is a major contribution . . . destined to become the definitive treatment for decades."

The Muse Learns to Write

Reflections on Orality and Literacy from Antiquity to the Present

ERIC A. HAVELOCK

When oral culture becomes literate, in what way does human consciousness itself change, and how does the new form of communication affect the content and meaning of texts? In this book, one of the most original and penetrating thinkers in Greek studies describes the transformation from orality to literacy in classical times and reflects upon its continued meaning for us today. 150pp. Now in paper, £5.95

Self-Knowledge in Plato's "Phaedrus"

CHARLES L. GRISWOLD, Jr.

"Determined to take every part of the dialogue seriously as a single deliberate philosophical design, Griswold analyses each episode in turn, with subtlety and much sensitivity . . . This is a book well worth reading and a commendable effort." — Times Literary Supplement
327pp. Now in paper, £10.95

Information for Authors

Prospective authors should send their contributions, typed and double-spaced on quarto or A4 paper, to the Editor, Mr Renford Bambrough, Royal Institute of Philosophy, 14 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0AG. They should retain a second copy for the purpose of checking proofs. Articles submitted should conform to Hart's Rules for Compositors and Readers (Oxford University Press, 1967). The Editor may alter manuscripts wherever necessary to make them conform to the stylistic and bibliographical conventions of the journal. Single quotation marks should be used except where there is a quotation within another. The titles of books and journals should be underlined (i.e. to be printed in italics), as should foreign words. Titles of articles should be in single quotation marks.

Notes and references will be printed as footnotes and should be typed (double-spacing) on a separate sheet, numbered consecutively. They should be referred to in the text by superscripts. Citations should be as follows:

The return of contributions cannot be guaranteed unless they are accompanied by stamps, or in the case of contributions from abroad, by international coupons, to cover postage. A self-addressed envelope should also be enclosed.

Only corrections of printer's errors can be allowed in proofs. Authors are therefore asked to send any alterations or additions to Mr Bambrough as soon as possible after receiving his letter of acceptance.

Authors of articles, discussion papers and review articles will receive twenty-five offprints free of charge. Additional offprints can be ordered when proofs are returned by arrangement with the Institute.

Books for review should be sent to the Editor at the Institute and not to Cambridge University Press. Publishers are asked to note that non-philosophical works are not reviewed in Philosophy.

Authors' corrected proofs should be sent to Mr Bambrough at St John's College, Cambridge. All other correspondence should be addressed to the Institute and not to any address in Cambridge.
