THE HARVARD ACADEMY FOR INTERNATIONAL AND AREA STUDIES

The Harvard Academy Scholars Program 2010-2011

The Academy Scholars Program identifies and supports outstanding scholars at the start of their careers whose work combines disciplinary excellence in the social sciences (including history and law) with a command of the language, history or culture of non-Western countries or regions. Their scholarship may elucidate domestic, comparative, or transnational issues, past or present.

The Academy Scholars are a select community of individuals with resourcefulness, initiative, curiosity, and originality, whose work in non-Western cultures or regions shows promise as a foundation for exceptional careers in major universities or international institutions. Harvard Academy Scholarships are open only to recent Ph.D. (or comparable professional school degree) recipients and doctoral candidates. Those still pursuing a Ph.D. should have completed their routine training and be well along in the writing of their theses before becoming Scholars; those in possession of a Ph.D. longer than 3 years are ineligible.

Academy Scholars are appointed for 2 years by the Harvard Academy for International and Area Studies and are provided time, guidance, and access to Harvard facilities. They receive substantial financial and research assistance to undertake sustained projects of research and/or acquire accessory training in their chosen fields and areas. Some teaching is permitted but not required. The Senior Scholars, a distinguished group of senior Harvard faculty members, act as mentors to the Academy Scholars to help them achieve their intellectual potential.

Post-doctoral Scholars will receive an annual stipend of $48,000, and pre-doctoral Scholars will receive an annual stipend of $28,000. Applications for the 2010-2011 class of Academy Scholars are due by October 1, 2009. Finalist interviews will take place in Cambridge on December 7. Notification of Scholarships will be made in January, 2010.

New Faculty Position in International Development

The Ford Program in Human Development Studies and Solidarity and the Kellogg Institute for International Studies invite applications for a scholar at either the associate or full professor level who works on themes related to international development, with a strong preference for field work in sub-Saharan Africa.

Kellogg and the Ford Program support research, teaching, and community engagement aimed at understanding the conditions that affect human welfare, including the dynamics of extreme poverty, economic growth and development, health conditions and policy, the political and social determinants of the distribution of wealth and opportunity, politics and public policy, human rights, and human dignity. Applicants would be placed in their disciplinary department: preferably political science, sociology, or economics, and would play a leading intellectual role in the development of the Ford Program. More information on Kellogg and the Ford Program can be found at <http://kellogg.nd.edu>.

Please send letters of inquiry or nomination and a c.v. to:

Director, Kellogg Institute for International Studies
130 Hesburgh Center
University of Notre Dame
Notre Dame, IN 46556

Review of applications will begin October 1 and continue until the position is filled. The University of Notre Dame is an affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to fostering a culturally diverse atmosphere for faculty, staff, and students. Women, minorities and those attracted to a university with a Catholic identity are especially encouraged to apply. Information about Notre Dame is available at <http://www.nd.edu>.
