

DEAF IN AMERICA

Voices from a Culture

CAROL PADDEN AND

TOM HUMPHRIES

"[A]... scholarly, crusading work by two deaf scholars arguing that the Deaf (the capital "D" denoting a community apart) possess their own distinctive culture... A pioneering work." — Kirkus Reviews

"Providing a rare insight into this universe of silence, this volume conveys the joy and satisfaction that many deaf people have in their lives and shows that being deaf is not a handicap the way most hearing people might think."

EVERYONE HERE SPOKE SIGN LANGUAGE

Hereditary Deafness on Martha's Vineyard

NORA ELLEN GROCE

"Harlan Lane has brought together a remarkable collection of eighteenth- and nineteenth-century documents... which provide an important historical perspective on current pedagogy."

— History of Education

"Beautiful and fascinating... I was so moved by Groce's book that the moment I finished it I jumped in the car, with only a toothbrush, a tape recorder, and a camera — I had to see this enchanted island myself." — Oliver Saks,
New York Review of Books

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Contributions are welcomed from all countries. They should be written in English. All articles, as well as books for review and listing, should be sent to Professor Dell Hymes, Editor, Department of Anthropology, University of Virginia, Charlottesville, VA 22906-9024, U.S.A.

Typescripts. The original typescript plus one copy should be submitted. Authors should hold a copy for correction of proofs. Contributions should be clearly typed, double-spaced on 8-1/2 x 11" or A4 paper. Figures should be ready for photographic reproduction: any labels and details should be clear and large enough to remain legible after a 50% reduction. The article title-page should include the title, author's name and affiliation (in that order), along with an abstract of the article. An abstract must be less than 150 words. Areas of study should be listed at the end of the abstract.

Titles should be so worded that the first part may be used as a running head (with a maximum length of 50 characters, including spaces). The title should be typed on a separate sheet with the author's name and address to which proofs will be sent.

Citations and forms of emphasis. Normally the Latin alphabet is to be used. Cited forms should be underlined to represent italicization in print. Translation meanings should be placed within single quotation marks.

References are to be made in the text (not in the endnotes) by giving in parentheses the name of the author, year of publication, and where relevant, the page(s) referred to: e.g., (Whitney 1867:45-53). If the author's name is part of the text, the following form should be used: "Whitney (1867:48) maintained that" When a work written by two or more authors is referred to, all names should be given in the first citation: e.g., (Weinreich, Labov, & Herzog 1968). In subsequent citations, only the first name should be given, followed by "et al.": e.g., (Weinreich et al. 1968). Separate works referred to in the same parentheses should be listed in alphabetical order; those by the same author should be separated by commas and those by different authors by semi-colons: e.g., (Firth 1935, 1957a; Whitney 1867). Initials should be used (after the author's name) only when it is necessary to distinguish between two or more authors with the same surname referred to in the same article.

All works referred to must be listed at the end of the article, double-spaced and in alphabetical order.

Examples of references (note the use of punctuation marks within references):

- Firth, J. R. (1957a). Ethnographic analysis and language with reference to Malinowski's views. In R. W. Firth (ed.), Man and culture: An evaluation of the work of Bronislaw Malinowski. London: Routledge and Kegan Paul. 93-118.
- (1957b). A synopsis of linguistic theory. 1930-55. Studies in linguistic analysis (special volume of the Philological Society). Oxford. 1-33.
- Sapir, E. (1929). The status of linguistics as a science. Language 5, 207-14. Reprinted in D. G. Mandelbaum (ed.), Selected writings of Edward Sapir. Berkeley and Los Angeles: University of California Press, 1939. 160-66.

Book reviews and notices. With the exception of the title-page, book reviews and notices should be submitted in the same form as articles. The title-page should take the following form: HENK HAVERKATE, Speech acts, speakers, and hearers: Reference and referential strategies in Spanish (Pragmatics & Beyond V:4). Amsterdam and Philadelphia: John Benjamins, 1984. Pp. xi + 142. On the last page, followed the entire review text (including endnotes and references), the review author's name and address should be given as follows:

Reviewed by BEATRIZ R. LAVANDERA

*Instituto de Lingüística
Universidad de Buenos Aires
Buenos Aires, Argentina*

There is no need to submit an abstract with a book review or notice.

Proofs. First proof will be sent to the lead author (or a nominee), who will be expected to correct and return them to the Editor, by airmail where appropriate, within three days of receipt.

Offprints. 25 offprints of the article will be provided free of charge to the lead author. Additional offprints may be purchased if ordered at proof stage.

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.

Copyright. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the U.S.A.
