on the eve of the Civil War*

Beyond a Christian Commonwealth

THE PROTESTANT QUARREL WITH THE AMERICAN REPUBLIC, 1830–1860

by Mark Y. Hanley

“Restores transcendent religion to center stage in its reconstruction of everyday religiosity. . . . It is the most novel and compelling interpretation that I have read in years.”—Harry S. Stout, Yale University

Antebellum Protestant ministers are often portrayed as heralds of a national “faith” in the burgeoning republic. Mark Hanley argues, however, that the liberal culture that emerged in America between 1830 and 1860 seriously eroded mainstream Protestant confidence in the spiritual yield of republican liberty and faith. “Religious jeremiads” and sermonic literature reveal a Protestant zeal which was a product of ministers’ religious dissent and disclose the clash of historic spiritual concerns with the materialism and individual freedom of a new liberal order.

PRIZES OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CHURCH HISTORY

The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize

The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize, offered annually, is a subvention fund of $1000 to assist a press in publishing a book-length manuscript in church history. The Brewer Prize is limited to first books. Manuscripts already accepted for publication may be submitted for this award, but the publication must have printed on its title-page, "The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize Essay of the American Society of Church History." The monetary grant will be authorized upon receipt in writing of a commitment from a publisher accepting the manuscript. Complete manuscripts in final form must be received by Henry W. Bowden, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701, by 1 November. Manuscripts may not be submitted in more than one ASCH competition. The award will be announced at the Spring meeting of the Society. No award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding.

Winner for 1993: Diana Hochstedt Butler, "Standing Against the Whirlwind: A Study of the Evangelical Party in the Protestant Episcopal Church."

Winner for 1992: Gregory Hanlon, "Confession and Community in Seventeenth-Century France: Catholics and Protestants in Aquitaine."

Winner for 1991: Amy Nelson Burnett, "The Yoke of Christ: Penance and Church Discipline in the Thought of Martin Bucer."

The Philip Schaff Prize

The Philip Schaff Prize is an award in the amount of $1000 to be paid to the author of the best book originating in the North American scholarly community which presents original research in the history of Christianity or any period thereof. This award is given in odd-numbered years. Books published during the two previous calendar years are eligible for the competition. Any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration. Copies of nominated books need not be submitted. Titles of nominated books must be received by Henry W. Bowden, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701 by 1 March in odd-numbered years. The prize will be announced at the annual Winter meeting of the Society.

Winner for 1991: David D. Hall, Worlds of Wonder, Days of Judgment: Popular Religious Belief in Early New England.

Winner for 1989: Carolyn Bynum, Holy Feast and Holy Fast: The Religious Significance of Food to Medieval Women.

The Sidney E. Mead Prize

The Sidney E. Mead Prize is an award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best unpublished essay in any field of church history written by a doctoral candidate or recent recipient whose manuscript stems directly from doctoral research. The manuscript will be published in Church History. Entries of no more than twenty-five double-spaced pages, including double-spaced endnotes, must be submitted to Henry W. Bowden, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701, by 1 July. The prize is offered annually, though no award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding. Manuscripts may not be submitted in more than one ASCH competition. The winner will be announced at the annual Winter meeting of the Society.

Winner for 1992: Alison Williams Lewin, "'Cum Status Ecclesie Noster Sit . . .': Florence and the Council of Pisa (1409)."

Winner for 1991: Ernest Freeburg, "'An Object of Peculiar Interest': The Education of Laura Bridgman."

NEW BY ROBERT BRENTANO

A New World in a Small Place

Church and Religion in the Diocese of Rieti, 1188–1378

Brentano provides an entirely new perspective on the character of the church, religion, and society in the medieval Italian diocese of Rieti. This long-awaited final episode in his informal trilogy on medieval religion and society is an enlightening example of how to understand history through physical evidence.

Communication & Change in American Religious History

Edited by Leonard I. Sweet

“First-rate essays by first-rate historians on the centrality of ‘communication’ in shaping American religion from the eighteenth to the twentieth century. . . . A collection with continuously fascinating insights on the media’s impact on the Word.”

—JON BUTLER

“This book will be valuable for historians, missiologists, and students of popular culture. It demonstrates convincingly that the form in which religious views were propagated in the American context profoundly affected the nature and reception of the message.”

“Fascinating and persuasive. . . . These essays are unusually well written and fit together far better than collections of essays normally do. The result is a timely, important book.”

—JOHN B. BOLES

THE ALBERT C. OUTLER PRIZE IN ECUMENICAL CHURCH HISTORY

The Albert C. Outler Prize in Ecumenical Church History consists of an award of $1000 to the author of a book-length manuscript and a possible grant of up to $3000 for publication costs—or in exceptional cases, for necessary expenses in the preparation of a manuscript accepted for publication. The term “Ecumenical” is to be construed as chiefly concerned with the problems of Christian unity and disunity (doctrinal, cultural, institutional) in any period of church history, or with interactions between Christianity and other religious movements. Works of a partisan nature are excluded. The winning manuscript must have printed on its title-page, “The Albert C. Outler Prize in Ecumenical History of the American Society of Church History.” Complete manuscripts in final form must be received by Henry W. Bowden, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701, by 1 June. The prize is offered annually, though no award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding. Manuscripts may not be submitted in more than one ASCH competition. The winner will be announced at the annual Winter meeting of the Society.

Winner for 1991: Ronald L. Numbers, The Creationists.

Winner for 1989: Jon Butler, Awash in a Sea of Faith: Christianizing the American People.

THE JANE DEMPSEY DOUGLASS PRIZE

The Jane Dempsey Douglass Prize is an award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best unpublished essay on some aspect of the role of women in the history of Christianity. The manuscript will be published in Church History. Entries of no more than twenty-five double-spaced pages, including doubled-spaced endnotes, must be submitted to Henry W. Bowden, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701, by 1 August each year. The prize is offered annually, though no award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding. Manuscripts may not be submitted in more than one ASCH competition. The winner will be announced at the annual Winter meeting of the Society.

Winner for 1993: Genevieve McCoy, “Post-Edwardsian Calvinism and the Women of the ABCFM Oregon Mission.”

“PEDLAR IN DIVINITY”

George Whitefield and the Transatlantic Revivals, 1737-1770

FRANK LAMBERT

A pioneer in the commercialization of religion, George Whitefield is seen by many as the most powerful leader of the Great Awakening in America. Through his passionate ministry he united local religious revivals into a national movement even before there was a nation.

In this fresh interpretation of Whitefield and his age, Frank Lambert focuses on the marketing techniques that he borrowed from his contemporaries in the commercial world. What emerges is a fascinating account of the birth of consumer culture and mass religion.

“This book marks an important contribution, a new way of thinking about the great transatlantic revival of the eighteenth century.”—John M. Murrin

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CHURCH HISTORY
Membership Information

The American Society of Church History was founded in 1888 by Philip Schaff and a group of colleagues. It is affiliated with the American Historical Association. Its purpose is to foster interest in the history of Christianity, and its interrelationship with its cultural context by encouraging research, writing, and teaching in this discipline.

The membership of the society consists of scholars, men and women, the majority of whom serve on faculties of colleges, universities, and seminaries. Others are archivists, clergy members, professional writers, and students, or simply those who have a serious interest in church history. The society is ecumenical in character, comprising members of various religious persuasions.

In addition to Church History, a journal published quarterly, the society holds an annual meeting in conjunction with the American Historical Association and a spring meeting on the campus of a host institution. The meeting programs and the journal provide opportunities for exploring a wide variety of subjects and the exchange of thought. Membership dues entitle one to receive the journal, with its informative articles and large book review section, and attend the meetings of the society.

In order to interest younger scholars, particularly those of ethnic minorities, in the work of the society, the council has voted to offer a dues-free membership (up to two years) to all graduate students working in the area of church history at an accredited institution upon the approval of a professor who is also a member of the society.

Application for Membership
American Society of Church History

Annual dues are $30.00, plus $7.00 foreign postage, including Canada. Graduate students working in the area of church history with the approval and verification of a professor who is also a member of the society may join without paying a fee. Persons who have been members of the society for at least five years and are now retired from professional life may continue membership at $15.00 per year. Membership in the society includes a subscription to Church History. The council approves applications at its semiannual meetings.
