announces the publication of

THE GREAT CHURCH TOWERS OF ENGLAND

By FRANK J. ALLEN

Crown 4to. Illustrations in collotype and half-tone. 45s. net.

A photographic study of all the principal towers, chiefly of the perpendicular period, with critical notes, record of architectural details, and exposition of the principles of tower design.

'Dr Allen has spent a lifetime's leisure in study of all the principal towers of the period in this country, and in this book there are exquisitely reproduced nearly 300 of his photographs. The immediate reaction of any lover of the English churches to the beautiful volume must be one of gratitude for its inspiration and its completion, and of unqualified admiration for its production.'

THE PLACE-NAMES OF DEVON

By J. E. B. GOVER, A. MAWER, and F. M. STENTON

Demy 8vo. In two volumes. With maps. 40s. net.

(Together with their essential companion, The Chief Elements in English Place-Names, 43s. net.)

The survey of the Place-Names of Devon, which forms Volumes VIII and IX of the English Place-Name Society's Survey, covers a larger area than any hitherto undertaken and includes some 7,000 names. Many interesting problems in the relations of Celt and Saxon are discussed.
