POSTGRADUATE COURSES IN AUDIOLOGY

THE University of Melbourne runs a one-year full time course for a Postgraduate Diploma in Audiology. The course for 1980 extends from February to November.

The course of instruction in audiology will be conducted at the University of Melbourne in the Department of Otolaryngology and in close association with clinics at the Royal Victorian Eye and Ear Hospital, the Royal Children's Hospital, the National Acoustic Laboratories and the State Health Department, Melbourne.

It will consist of a comprehensive series of lectures, demonstrations, seminars, tutorials and practical work on audiology, and the physical and biological sciences associated with it, and will also include clinical work in all areas of audiology. Instruction in the basic sciences will cover acoustics, anatomy, biophysics, physiology and psychology. Instruction in audiology will cover diagnostic audiology, aural habilitation and rehabilitation, hearing aids, industrial audiology, otolaryngology, paediatric audiology, geriatric audiology and speech and language.

The Diploma in Audiology may lead on to a further one-year full time course work study for the degree of Master of Science (Audiology). This course offers advanced level training in many of the areas covered in the Diploma in Audiology, in particular diagnostic audiology, paediatric audiology and aural rehabilitation.

Applications for the course in 1980 will close on 30 November 1979.

Further details may be obtained from: The Secretary, Audiology, The Department of Otolaryngology, University of Melbourne, Parkville 3052, Victoria, Australia.
