The Oxford History of Modern India

Percival Spear

First published in 1965, this work has established itself as the authoritative history of modern India. In this new edition, the author has added a section entitled 'Independent India 1947–1975', which analyses the political, economic, and cultural developments from Independence to the declaration of the Emergency. Second edition paper covers £5.25

Churchill, Cripps, and India 1939–1945

R. J. Moore

This is the story of a missed opportunity. Professor Moore argues that Sir Stafford Cripps' mission to India in 1942 could, if successful, have prevented the ultimate partition of India and that its failure can be attributed to the baleful influence of Churchill, acting in support of the over-cautious and often stubborn Viceroy, Lord Linlithgow. £7.50

Bhutan: The Dragon Kingdom in Crisis

N. K. Rustomji

On the night of 5 April 1964, Jigmie Dirji, Prime Minister of the Himalayan Kingdom of Bhutan, was assassinated: the climax of hidden but mounting tension over diverse issues. This is the first objective account of this critical event in Bhutan's history. Illustrated £4.50

The Constitution of Malaysia

Its Development, 1957–1977

Edited by Tun Mohamed Suffian and others

Malaysia's first twenty years as an independent state have been characterized by stability and progress in the political, social, and economic fields. Malaysia's constitution has undoubtedly contributed to this stability and progress, and this book reviews the development of that constitution. £15.95

Narrative of Various Journeys in Balochistan, Afghanistan, the Punjab, and Kalat

Charles Masson

The essential subject of the book is the insurrection in Balochistan and the capture of Kalat by the 'patriotic party' in 1840. It also includes a route map of the Various Journeys, and the Memoir on Eastern Balochistan. £10.50

The Study of Chinese Society

Essays by Maurice Freedman

Selected and Introduced by G. William Skinner. Twenty-four major essays by the late Maurice Freedman, a brilliant scholar and teacher who profoundly affected the course of anthropological research into Chinese society. Parts 1 and 2 contain his pioneering papers on the Chinese in Singapore and other areas of Southeast Asia, papers that played an important part in attracting anthropologists to the overseas Chinese as a field of study. His three main papers on Hong Kong, which constitute Part 3, showed social scientists what could be learned from observation in "residual China." Part 4 gives us Freedman at his best: eight elegant efforts to reconstruct the religious and kinship patterns of traditional China by a judicious comparison of recent fieldwork and the written record. Part 5 consists of essays on the challenges and problems that Chinese society presents for social anthropologists. $28.50

Old Madam Yin

A Memoir of Peking Life

Ida Pruitt. By the author of the classic A Daughter of Han, this is an affectionate, revealing portrait of an aged, wealthy widow and her family in the Peking of the 1920's and early 1930's. Through the daily life and memories of Lao Tai-tai, it gives an intimate glimpse into a centuries-old way of life that was fast coming to an end. We explore the inner workings of an upper-class urban family: the relations between husbands and wives and between wives and concubines, the interactions among brothers, the role of women in such a family. We learn how houses, gardens, and courtyards are constructed according to precise rules. We are shown the enormous importance to the Chinese of protocol, etiquette, and reciprocal obligation. Above all, the memoir captures the essence of pre-war Chinese cultural and social values. Illustrated. August. About $10.00

Modern Asian Studies is concerned with the history, geography, politics, sociology, literature, economics and social anthropology of South Asia, South-East Asia, China and Japan.

Contributions should be based on original research or field-work. They should be between 2000 and 8000 words long. Two typed copies should be submitted. Each author will receive twenty-five free offprints of his article and a copy of the Journal in which it appears.

Submission of an article will be taken to imply that it has not been previously published and that it is not on offer to any other publisher. In the interests of authors, copyright is normally assigned to Cambridge University Press. The editor welcomes expression of all shades of opinion, but responsibility for them rests with their authors.

All correspondence should be addressed to Dr Gordon Johnson, Selwyn College, Cambridge CB3 9DQ, England.
