Wolves at the Door Migration, Dehumanization, Rewilding the World

Peter Arnds

Paperback | 9781501366758 | 29.95

Situated at the junction of literature, politics, and ecocriticism, Wolves at the Door explores the cultural origins of the language and imagery of dehumanization by tracing the history of the wolf metaphor in discussions of race, gender, colonialism, fascism, and ecology.

Superhero Culture Wars Politics, Marketing, and Social Justice in Marvel Comics

Monica Flegel and
Judith Leggatt

Paperback | 9781350148642 | 34.95

"With dazzling scholarly dexterity, Monica Flegel and Judith Leggatt take us on the rollercoaster ride of Marvel Comics: how its socio-politically alert contemporary stories entertain, incite incendiary debate, reveal deep sociopolitical chasms, and act as agents of change. Superhero Culture Wars forcefully reminds: Comics matter!"

—Frederick Luis Aldama, Ohio State University, USA

Our Two-Track Minds Rehabilitating Freud on Culture

Robert A. Paul

Paperback | 9781501370038 | 29.95

Robert A. Paul shows that Freud's early cultural works, and his thinking on how human society is possible, given the unpromising materials out of which it is constructed (i.e. human beings), can appear in a different and more favorable light when viewed through the lens of contemporary anthropology, cultural studies, and evolutionary theory.

The Rise of Euroskepticism is now a free, open access ebook.

“Just when the idea of Europe—that borderless common ground where peace and good life were granted—vanishes due to neoliberal crises, xenophobia, and austerity policies, Martín-Estudillo’s brilliant, wise, and provocative book analyzes the complexities and ambiguities of the European project from Spain’s perspective.”

— Germán Labrador,
Princeton University
