BREAK FREE FROM Maternal Anxiety

A Self-Help Guide for Pregnancy, Birth and the First Postnatal Year

Fiona L. Challacombe
Catherine Green and Victoria Bream

Provides a practical manual to help navigate mothers
& family members out of perinatal anxiety.

As many as one in five mothers will develop a mental health problem during pregnancy or within the first year after birth.

Severe anxiety affects a huge number of women in pregnancy and the postnatal period, making a challenging time even more difficult. You may be suffering from uncontrollable worries about pregnancy and birth, distressing intrusive thoughts of accidental or deliberate harm to the baby, or fears connected to traumatic experiences. This practical self-help guide provides an active route out of feeling anxious. Step-by-step, the book teaches you to apply cognitive behaviour therapy (CBT) techniques in the particular context of pregnancy and becoming a new parent in order to overcome maternal anxiety in all its forms. Working through the book you will gain understanding of your anxiety and how factors from the past and present may be playing a role in how you feel. Together with practical exercises and worksheets to move through at your own pace, you will gain the tools you need to help you move forward and enjoy parenthood.

What Makes a Person?

Secrets of Our First 1,000 Days

MARK HANSON • LUCY GREEN

Ever wondered why your life and health can sometimes be so hard to control? Or why it seems so easy for other people? Mark Hanson and Lucy Green draw on their years of experience as scientists and educators to cut through the usual information on genetics and lifestyle to reveal the secrets of early development which start to make each of us unique, during our first 1,000 days from the moment of conception. Some surprising discoveries, based on little-known new research, show how events during our first 1,000 days make each of us who we are and explain how we control our bodies, processes that go way beyond just the genes which we inherited. Provoking new ways of thinking about being parents, this book empowers individuals and society to give the next generation the gift of a good start to life and future health.

‘Professor Hanson and Dr Green have presented a candid, challenging and thought provoking response to the question, What Makes a Person? Their book takes you on a journey through the first 1000 days of life highlighting how physical, environmental, and economic factors influence our long-term health. Whether you are a parent already, planning to start a family or simply curious about health, this book will appeal to a wide audience and will most certainly nudge you towards some level of behavioural change.’

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS

All manuscripts should be submitted online via our new manuscript submission and tracking site, <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/ipm>. Full instructions for electronic submission are available directly from this site. If you wish to submit a book review please email your paper directly to the Editorial Office <mhayes@irishpsychiatry.ie>. To facilitate rapid reviewing, communications for peer review will be electronic and authors will need to supply a current e-mail address when registering to use the system.

All submitted material will become the property of the Journal until, and if, publication is refused. Material so referred should not be sent elsewhere for publication.

The Journal will accept for consideration original papers, brief research reports, audits, clinical case reports, review articles, historical papers, perspective articles, editorials, and letters to the editor and book reviews. Original data papers receive top priority for speedy publication.

Generally original papers should not have text more than 4500 words in length (excluding title, authors, abstract, tables/figures and references). Papers shorter than these limits are encouraged. For papers of unusual importance the editorial team may waive these requirements. Short reports have a word limit of 2,000 and editorials have a word limit of 1,500.

Manuscripts should be prepared in accordance with the "Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts (URM) Submitted to Biomedical Journals" of the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (2010).

Declaration of Interest: A statement must be provided in the acknowledgements listing all financial support received for the work and, for all authors, any financial involvement (including employment, fees, share ownership) or affiliation with any organization whose financial interests may be affected by material in the manuscript, or which might potentially bias it. This applies to all papers including editorials and letters to the editor.

Contributors should also note the following:

1. S.I. units should be used throughout in text, figures and tables.
2. Authors should spell out in full any abbreviations used in their manuscripts.
3. Foreign quotations and phrases should be followed by a translation.
4. If necessary, guidelines for statistical presentation may be found in: Altman DG, Gore SM, Gardner MJ & Pocock SJ (1983). Statistical guidelines for contributors to medical journals. British Medical Journal 286, 1489–1493.

REFERENCES (1) The Harvard (author-date) system should be used in the text and a complete list of References cited given at the end of the article. In a text citation of a work by more than two authors cite the first author's name followed by et al. (but the names of all of the authors should be given in the References section). Where several references are cited together they should be listed in rising date order. (2) The References section should be supplied in alphabetical order (authors' names in bold, journal titles in full), following the text. Some examples follow:
