TO THOSE WISHING TO SUBMIT MANUSCRIPTS

Manuscripts for consideration should be submitted in four double-spaced copies. Footnotes should be double-spaced and placed at the end of the manuscript. Manuscripts are sent to referees anonymously and should be prepared accordingly. Library of Congress transliteration should be used. In general, articles should not exceed twenty-five pages. Manuscripts will not be returned unless postage is provided.

The policy of the Slavic Review is not to consider materials that have been published or that are being considered for publication elsewhere.

Publication of articles in the Slavic Review is ordinarily limited to those submitted by members of the AAASS. Nonmembers wishing to submit manuscripts are asked to request a membership application.

SOVIET STUDIES

THE RED ARMY AND SOCIETY

A Sociology of the Soviet Military

Ellen Jones

Drawing on the literature in a variety of areas, as well as on eyewitness accounts of former Soviet soldiers, Ellen Jones has produced the first full-length study of the Soviet army as a social institution. Focusing on military manpower, the study examines conscription policy, the characteristics of the professional military, the role of the political officer, the mechanics of political socialization within the army, and the experience of ethnic minorities in the forces.

THE SOVIET UNION AND TERRORISM

Roberta Goren

Edited by Jillian Becker,

with an introduction by Robert Conquest

To what extent is the Soviet Union involved in the waves of terrorism which have plagued the world in the last two decades? This fascinating book begins with an analysis of the changing official Soviet thinking on terrorism since 1917. Using well-documented reports, it then examines Soviet involvement in several contemporary terrorist movements.

UNDERSTANDING SOVIET POLITICS THROUGH LITERATURE

Martin Crouch and Robert Porter, Eds.

"The aim of this collection is not only to stress the close connection between politics and literature but, more importantly, to let excerpts from a wide variety of writings reflect various phases of contemporary Soviet society. The 19 selections, most from the post-Khrushchev era, encompass major socio-political areas, including ideology, the Stalinist legacy, economic and agricultural difficulties, environment, technology, housing, teenage attitudes. . . . The innovative approach has much to recommend it. . . . Many of these books are not available in English at all, and Porter's very good translations nicely balance existing translated offerings. Highly recommended for Soviet area studies collections, undergraduate and graduate." Choice
