

THOMAS MERTON

Thoughts in Solitude

This is a book of meditations closely related to the same author's Seeds of Contemplation and No Man Is an Island. Father Merton is here concerned with man's inalienable right to solitude and interior freedom; the book utters "convictions for all who have the courage to look into the infinite", for all who are willing to take thought in a troubled time.

10s. 6d.

BURNS & OATES

An Introduction to Western Philosophy

By RUSSELL COLEBURT

18/- net

Professor Coleburt traces the main currents of Western philosophy from Thales to Jean Paul Sartre for those who have little knowledge of philosophy.

Martyrs

By DONALD ATTWATER

16/- net

Some sixty genuine accounts of martyrs, from St Stephen in the earliest days of the Church to the present-day martyrs under the Communist régime of Red China.

Approach to Prayer

By DOM HUBERT VAN ZELLER

10/6 net

No prayer could be simpler, yet more complete than the Our Father. Dom Hubert van Zeller takes its simplicity as his model when he discusses the practice of Prayer.

SHEED & WARD
33 MAIDEN LANE, LONDON W.C.2

THE CISTERCIAN HERITAGE

LOUIS BOUYER. Translated from the French of La Spiritualité de Cîteaux, by Elizabeth Livingstone

Professor Louis Bouyer, the distinguished French Oratorian, is already well known to English-speaking readers from his brilliant studies on The Spirit and Forms of Protestantism, The Paschal Mystery, and Life and Liturgy. In the present volume he depicts the early history of a movement for which he has the very deepest sympathy, and which he feels is particularly akin to the best elements in the twentieth century.

Just published. 22s. 6d.

GOD AND US

JEAN DANIELÉLOU. Translated from the French of Dieu et Nous, by Walter Roberts

'One of Fr Daniélou's best books, and to say so is high commendation. Studying the various ways of knowing God and their proper relationship, Fr Daniélou compares the God of the philosophers and the God of Abraham, the God of the Jews and the God of the New Testament, the God of the theologians and the God revealed in the religious experience of the mystic. This is a profound book, yet short and highly readable.'—The Month.

22s. 6d.

THE PRESENCE OF GOD

JEAN DANIELÉLOU. Translated from the French of Le Signe du Temple, by Walter Roberts

Daniélou is known as one of the ablest theological writers in present-day France. The tone of his new book is devotional. It is a meditation concerning the different modes of God's dwelling with man. The theme is traced from before the Old Covenant to its passing with the Crucifixion and the inauguration of the New Covenant.

Just published. 5s.

Fleur De Lys Series

ON JESUS AT TWELVE YEARS OLD. Meditations of St Aelred.

Translated from the Latin by Geoffrey Webb and Adrian Walker.

'Welcome to the first appearance in English of the great St Aelred of Rievaulx's little masterpiece of spiritual writing On Jesus at Twelve Years Old. Here in saintly simplicity is an exposition of the gospel texts, imaginative reconstruction, and spiritual interpretation of the little we know of our Lord's boyhood.'—Catholic Herald.

3s. 6d.

MOWBRAYS

Theological Publishers and Booksellers

28 MARGARET STREET, OXFORD CIRCUS, W.1

Also obtainable through any bookseller

PRINTED AT THE DITCHLING PRESS, DITCHLING, SUSSEX