

New from
Cambridge University Press

Avenues to Adulthood
The Origins of the High School and Social Mobility in an American Suburb
Reed Ueda

American educators have hailed the public high school as the ultimate supplier of equal opportunity in a modern educational system. Until Professor Ueda's Avenues to Adulthood, however, no social history has described why the high school modernized at the turn of the century, what kind of opportunity it offered to whom, and how it became a focus of civic life that reshaped the sense of community and generation. This volume offers answers to these questions by studying a suburban Boston high school.
$29.95

Childhood in Nineteenth-Century France
Work, Health and Education Among the Classes Populaires
Colin Heywood

An important and highly accessible study of the changing experience of childhood among many peasants and working classes of nineteenth-century France, this book is an original synthesis of material on child labor, apprenticeship, and education, drawing on a broad range of primary sources as well as the existing literature in related fields of study.
About $34.50

At bookstores or order from

Cambridge University Press

32 East 57th Street, NY, NY 10022
Cambridge toll-free numbers for orders only: 800-872-7423, outside NY State: 800-227-0247, NY State only. MasterCard and Visa accepted.

THE UNIVERSITY REFORM OF TSAR ALEXANDER I
1802 - 1835

James T. Flynn

"This study, dealing as it does with the eternal question of the relationship of progress and education, will be of enormous value to scholars of both European politics and universities."

Cynthia H. Whittaker,
The City University of New York

285 pages $39.95 cloth

The Catholic University of America Press
P. O. Box 4852, Hampden Station
Baltimore, MD 21211

The Social History of American Education

Edited by

B. Edward McClellan and William J. Reese

For over twenty-five years, the History of Education Quarterly has served as the meeting ground for a generation of the leading experts in educational and social history. For the convenience of scholars and students alike, Edward McClellan and William Reese bring together the major ideas of its most prominent contributors. Bridging the span of American educational history from the colonial era to the present, these essays offer extensive coverage of such topics as women's education, the education of minority groups, and the social dimensions of educational reform.

Contributors: David F. Allmendinger, Jr., James D. Anderson, Jurgen Herbst, N. Ray Hiner, Michael B. Katz, Marvin Lazerson, Katherine McDaniel Moore, Michael R. Olneck, David N. Plank, Paul E. Peterson, Mary Aicken Rothschild, John L. Rury, Guadalupe San Miguel, Jr., Anne Firor Scott, Ronald Story, Marcia G. Synnott, Jon Teaford, Selwyn Troen, and David B. Tyack.

"These essays represent some of the best and most significant contributions to the reconceptualized field of history of education that have been published in recent years." — Jennings L. Wagoner, past president of the History of Education Society and co-editor of The Changing Politics of Education. $34.95; paper, $11.95.

All royalties on these books are paid to the History of Education Quarterly.

Order from your local bookstore, or from

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS PRESS

c/o CUP Services · P. O. Box 6525 · Ithaca, NY 14851

Order toll free 800/666-2211

