

It is sad that the senior author, Dr. Bhattacharya, died in May 1967. If he had lived, we might possibly have been given a more balanced book. "Methods in geochemistry and geophysics" should surely not be confined, virtually, to studies of synthetic data.

Editors' note: The first sentence of the review of Fife and Angus Geology by A. R. MacGregor (published in Geol. Mag., 106, (1), p. 106) should have read as follows: "This excellent . . . in its aims and format to the Geological Excursion Guide to the Glasgow District by D. A. Bassett (1958), Edinburgh Geology; An Excursion Guide by G. H. Mitchell and others (1960), and Excursion Guide to the Geology of Arran by Murray Macgregor and others (1965)."
