

Write for the BJARN and contribute to the Growing body of knowledge in Anaesthetics and Recovery

The British Journal of Anaesthetic and Recovery Nursing is looking for articles to publish in next years issues. The guidelines for publication are printed at the back of this journal. If you have something you would like to publish but you are unsure as to how to go about it the editor of the journal is more than happy to support you through this process. You may have done work as part of a course and your tutor has suggested you publish it. You may have done an audit in your department that you would like to share with other anaesthetic and recovery personnel. Whatever it is the British Journal of Anaesthetic and Recovery Nursing would like to hear from you.

Bridging the Theory to Practice Gap with Credible Clinical Training

At venues all over the UK and Ireland

Our 2003 portfolio is out now with details of over 40 clinical short courses including

- the BARNA accredited 3 Day Anaesthetics & Recovery Care Course
- Recovery Care of Children 1 day course
- NEW Legal Responsibilities of Theatre Staff workshop.

Other courses include The ECG Workshop, Heart & Lung Sounds Masterclass plus many more.

M&K also offer tailored flexible training packages for hospitals.

Can you teach?

M&K have free-lance teaching vacancies for experienced clinicians with an ability to teach. Work offered is flexible and typically our trainers are still in clinical employment working for M&K 1 or 2 days every 2 months or so.

All course programmes can be viewed and booked online
