Constitutional Conflicts between Congress and the President

Louis Fisher

"Nothing in the field is as good an introduction to the key constitutional issues between President and Congress as Constitutional Conflicts. Fisher covers the ground expertly, from the Neutrality Acts through Nicaragua, and gives answers to the questions my students are asking."

The Political Strategy of Protest and Rebellion

James DeNardo

From the Foreword by Philip E. Converse:

"...James DeNardo has done here for the logic of protest what Anthony Downs did a quarter of a century ago for the logic of candidate strategies in voting systems."

This book explores the logic of struggle between radical movements and incumbent regimes, and develops a general theory of strategy in protests, uprisings and rebellions. The congruence between positions taken by inhabitants of his abstract model world and those of preeminent radical thinkers like Marx, Lenin, Bernstein, Luxemburg, Mao, and the Russian terrorists will be striking to political scientists, historians and sociologists alike. $25.00

The Rise and Fall of Chilean Christian Democracy

Michael Fleet

Today, more than a decade after Eduardo Frei relinquished power in Chile, Christian Democracy is again being heralded as a "moderate alternative" in Latin America. Michael Fleet presents a balanced picture of the Chilean Christian Democratic party, explaining the dramatic changes it has undergone during the twenty-five years since its emergence as a significant political force. Please submit five copies of a manuscript to be considered for publication. Unfortunately, due to increased postage costs, we can no longer return manuscripts to the author. Manuscripts must be typed on one side of the paper only and mimeographed or photocopied, with all written material double-spaced (including quotations, references, and footnotes). Use standard typewriter paper—avoid colored and light-weight stock. The typewritten lines should not exceed 5½ or 6 inches in length. Since manuscripts are sent out anonymously for evaluation, the author's name and affiliation should appear only on a separate covering sheet. An abstract of less than 150 words should accompany the manuscript. APSR will not consider articles submitted to other publications.

Beginning with the June 1983 issue, the reference form is that prescribed by the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 2nd ed.; brief parenthetical references are included in the text, and all sources are listed alphabetically at the end of the article. The work of classical authors such as Aristotle or Plato may be cited by the standardized code familiar to scholars in the field, and passing allusions to such authors do not require mention in the list of references. Conventional foot-of-column notes are used only for explanatory comments or in unusual cases to avoid lengthy in-text references.

Articles that draw on survey data not documented through the Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research should include the following information in an appendix: (1) a description of the population sampled, including definition of the geographical area covered, and details about how the sample was drawn sufficient to permit fairly exact replication; (2) response rate (for quota designs, the number of refusals); (3) exact question wordings; and (4) interviewer characteristics.

Manuscripts over 30 pages will be reviewed with particular care to determine if such length is warranted. Those over 50 pages will be returned to the author. Resubmission may follow compliance with the page limit. Tables, charts, footnotes, and references will be included in the page count.

Figures should be professionally presented: use high-quality white paper and India ink for maximum sharpness and clarity of line. Copies only should accompany the submitted manuscript, original art work being retained until requested by the editorial office. Tables should be typed on separate pages, with guides, e.g., "Table 1 about here" at the proper places in the manuscript.

Communications must follow the form of regular manuscripts, including reference listings where appropriate. They must not exceed five double-spaced pages, including references, footnotes, and tables. All but the briefest letters will be refereed.

Congress: We The People is an exciting new resource for political science courses on Congress and the legislative process.

The series includes 26 half-hour video cassettes that show the day-to-day activities of Congress and provide analysis and commentary by leading political scientists.

Faculty are finding that Congress: We The People is an excellent supplement to existing courses. Among the topics addressed are: congressional elections; committee leadership; lobbying; constituent relations; lawmaking; budgeting; ethics; and congressional relations with the President, courts and the media.

The series is also being used as a complete broadcast telecourse for students who complete most of their study off-campus, and as a resource for noncredit and informal study.

Congress: We The People is hosted by Norman Ornstein, Catholic University, and Edwin Newman, noted journalist. It was produced by the American Political Science Association and WETA, the public television station in Washington, D.C.

A special feature of Congress: We The People is its adaptation for use with any of following three commonly used textbooks:

- Congress and Its Members by Roger H. Davidson and Walter J. Oleszek, Congressional Quarterly Press, Washington, D.C., 1981.
- The United State Congress: People, Places and Policy by Charles O. Jones, the Dorsey Press, Homewood, Illinois, 1982.
- Congress: Process and Policy by Randall B. Ripley, W.W. Norton and Company, New York, 1983.
