

The Center for Middle Eastern Studies

University of Texas at Austin

announces

the first volume in a new paperbound series

Middle East Monographs, No. 1

Catalysts of Change

Marxist Versus Muslim in a Turkish Community

By Arnold Leder

This stimulating case study examines the impact of traditional Muslim authorities and radical Marxist teachers on local politics in Saruhanli, a rural Turkish community. Its primary focus is on the activities of these groups and the changes they have brought about in the local political order over the past two decades.

64 pages, $3.95

Order from
Texas Press Services
Box 7877
Austin, Texas 78712

Middle Eastern Muslim Women Speak

Edited by Elizabeth Warnock Fernea and Basima Qattan Bezirgan

This collection of writings by and about Middle Eastern women is the first documentary treatment of women and their roles in Middle Eastern society. These selections, translated from Arabic, Persian, and French, represent a wide range of women, from ancient poets to modern political activists. In their introduction the editors explore the paradox of Middle Eastern women, who have risen to greater political and public eminence than women in the United States, while as a sex remaining largely subservient to men. 402 pages, illustrated, $16.95

Change at Shebika

Report from a North African Village
By Jean Duvignaud
Introduction by Robert Fernea

This ethnography of an isolated village in Tunisia provides a fascinating picture of practical sociology activating the society it investigates. 303 pages, $4.95, paper

University of Texas Press

Post Office Box 7819, Austin 78712

