

P03-505

SEXUALITY AND HYSTERECTOMY

A. Moutinho¹, G. Jorge², A.V. Pereira³

¹Psychiatry, Centro Hospitalar Psiquiátrico de Lisboa, ²Anesthesiology, ³Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, Centro Hospitalar Lisboa Central, Lisbon, Portugal

Hysterectomy is the most frequent surgical procedure in gynecology, and it can be performed using several surgical techniques and for various clinical indications. The aim of this poster is to understand in what way the removal of the uterus conditions anatomical, physiological and psychological changes in the woman, and in what way these changes influence her sexuality.