Meet your new research team.

A team of experienced librarians and legal research experts is working for you, and you didn't even know it. Better yet, you can call on them 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The EISIL team has broken down the complicated world of researching international law into 13 broad categories covering 300 international law topics. At www.eisil.org, you'll have easy access to:

- Primary source documents such as treaties and agreements.
- Information for cite checking international legal materials for articles, briefs, and working papers.
- The best web sites and other tools for doing further research on an international topic.

Research that used to take days or hours and required an extensive library can now be done in minutes!

Try it. EISIL is fast, easy and FREE.

Islands of Effective International Adjudication: Constructing an Intellectual Property Rule of Law in the Andean Community

Laurence R. Helfer, Karen J. Alter, and M. Florencia Guertzovich 1

The Andean Community has achieved surprising success in one part of its legal system. More than fourteen hundred rulings on intellectual property by the Andean Tribunal of Justice have helped national administrative agencies improve their decision making and resist pressure to deviate from Andean rules. This article explains the emergence of this island of effective international adjudication and engages with broader theoretical debates over how international institutions contribute to building the rule of law.

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

The American Society of International Law was organized in 1906 “to foster the study of international law and to promote the establishment and maintenance of international relations on the basis of law and justice.” Society membership is open to all persons of any nationality and profession who are interested in its objectives. Dues are: regular, $180; special, $120; new professional, $95; retired, $120; student, $35. Sustaining Memberships—contributing ($300) and patrons ($10,000)—are also available. Institutional sponsorship programs begin at $5,000. The Society is incorporated by Act of Congress approved September 20, 1950 (64 Stat. 869).

PROGRAM OF WORK

In addition to publishing the American Journal of International Law, the ASIL offers a variety of information resources and participation opportunities for members as well as nonmembers. These programs, best viewed at www.asil.org, include: publications such as International Legal Materials and Studies in Transnational Legal Policy; electronic bulletins such as ASIL Insights, International Law In Brief, and IL.post; events such as the Annual Meeting and other gatherings in Washington, D.C. and around the world; Outreach programs for the justice sector, the media, and other audiences; an array of resources on the ASIL Web site, such as the Electronic Information System for International Law (EISIL) and the Guide to Electronic Resources for International Law (ERG); and opportunities to be part of an active network bridging expert and nonexpert communities associated with the development of international law.

PHILANTHROPY AND THE SOCIETY

The ASIL accomplishes much of its work through charitable support. The Society is grateful to its many members who contribute to the annual fund and the endowment, the foundations whose grants fund special programs, and the law firms, publishers, universities, and others that sponsor ASIL activity. The Society is particularly honored to receive contributions through the Patrons program and to be included in our members' estate plans through the ASIL Heritage Circle. We recognize these contributors below.

PATRONS

Patrons of the Society contribute $10,000 or more to the ASIL Endowment for International Law. Patrons may also be recognized posthumously upon such a donation being made in their name.
