

ALBION

Contents of Volume 7

Number 1, Spring, 1975

- 1 Cabinet Politics and Executive Policy-Making Procedures,
1794-1801
Richard E. Willis
- 24 The Literary Unity, the Date, and the Purpose of the Lady
Edith's Book: The Life of King Edward Who Rests in West- minster
Eleanor K. Heningham
- 41 Advise and Consent: Parliament and Foreign Policy Under the Later Stuarts
Phyllis S. Lachs
- 55 Women's Work: Employment Opportunities and Economic
Roles, 1918-1939
Neal A. Ferguson
- 69 Reports of Proceedings

Number 2, Summer, 1975

- 101 The Dynamics of Violence in Chartism: A Case Study in Northeastern England
William Henry Maehl, Jr.
- 120 Scotland, Ireland and the English Civil War
Charles L. Hamilton
- 131 British Chemistry and the Concept of Science in the Eighteenth Century
Arthur Donovan
- 145 Little Tin Gods: The District Officer in British East Africa
Michael Thomason
- 161 Thomas Mortimer and Thomas Molineux: Radcot Bridge
and the Appeal of 1397
James L. Gillespie
- 174 Reports of Proceedings

Number 3, Fall, 1975

- 201 Reform of the Poor Law Electoral System, 1834-94
Anthony Brundage
- 216 The Tenants' Movement to Capture the Irish Poor Law Boards, 1877-1886
William L. Feingold
- 232 Delivering the Goods: Reappraising the Ministry of Munitions, 1915-1916
R.J.Q. Adams
- 245 Jeremy Bentham: Businessman or "Philanthropist"?
William C. Bader, Jr.
- 255 Reports of Proceedings

Number 4, Winter, 1975

- 265 The Fall of Lord Chancellor Wriothlesley: A Study in the Politics of Conspiracy
Arthur J. Slavin
- 287 George Orwell and the Victorian Radical Tradition
Gordon B. Beadle
- 300 Purveyance for War and the Community of the Realm in Late Medieval England
W. R. Jones
- 317 Chamberlain's Folly: The National Defence Contribution of 1937
Robert P. Shay, Jr.
- 328 The Swedenborgian Figure in the Carpet: Henry James's Critical Point of View
Diana E. LeSturgeon and Homer Nearing, Jr.
- 342 Reports of Proceedings
- 359 Index to Volume 7

POPULAR RECREATIONS IN ENGLISH SOCIETY 1700-1850

ROBERT W. MALCOLMSON

The festivals and rugged sports of English laboring people are vividly described and placed within their social context to show the factors leading to their gradual decline. Contains 10 photographs. $14.50

STABILITY AND CHANGE IN AN ENGLISH COUNTY TOWN

ALAN ARMSTRONG

A social study of York from 1801 to 1851, demonstrating the fact that county towns were not isolated from the economic and social changes going on at the time. $16.50

THE REPRESENTATIVE OF THE PEOPLE?

DEREK HIRST

An examination of votes and voting in England under the early Stuarts. Dr. Hirst finds that parliamentary politics was open to a surprisingly broad range of social groups. $21.00

POPERY AND POLITICS IN ENGLAND 1660-1688

JOHN MILLER

Based on numerous public and private sources, this book represents the first serious attempt to analyze and explain anti-Catholicism in this period. $15.95

COLONIALISM IN AFRICA 1870-1960: VOLUME 4
THE ECONOMICS OF COLONIALISM

PETER DUIGNAN and L. H. GANN, Editors

This large volume, containing over 150 tables, brings to completion this important five-volume study. $42.50

BRITAIN AND EAST ASIA 1933 to 1937

ANN TROTTER

This book fills an important gap in understanding Britain's relationship to East Asia, China and Japan after the Manchurian crisis. The author's use and analysis of the Foreign Office archives and Leith Ross papers make her work a valuable tool in studying this phase of the British Far East policy. $23.50

Cambridge University Press

32 East 57th Street, New York, N. Y. 10022

New in British Studies

British Political Biography Series

New to the Series:

CASTLEREAGH

John W. Derry

A look at the private man as well as at his public face, this new biography shows how Castlereagh's career reflected the assumptions and circumstances of his period, how he represented a certain style of political behavior, and how he contributed to the development of a political tradition.

January 1976 250 pages
$15.00, clothbound

KEIR HARDIE

Iain McLean

In this fascinating account, the private and public lives of a complex figure are set firmly in the context of the politics of his day. The author focuses on Hardie's instrumental role in the founding of the British Labour Party and his contribution to the shaping of the Party's ideology down to the present.

Published 1975 192 pages
$12.95, clothbound

LORD NORTH

Peter D. G. Thomas

The author covers North's role in Parliament, his work as the Exchequer, his activities as Prime Minister, and his policies toward India, Ireland, and the American colonies. It is Professor Thomas' conclusion that Lord North was, if not a great Prime Minister, at least not the failure of legend.

December 1975 175 pages
$12.95, clothbound

BRITISH HISTORICAL FACTS: 1830-1900

Chris Cook and Brendan Keith

This original, pioneering volume offers a comprehensive but accessible source of facts and figures on the Victorian period. Its coverage includes almost every area of importance to the reader interested in politics or history of the 19th century including the ministries, political parties, parliament, reform, elections, foreign affairs, the military mores, the economy, and the state of the empire.

Published 1975 400 pages
$25.00, clothbound

EDUCATION IN TUDOR AND STUART ENGLAND

Documents of Modern History Series

David Cressy

The documents collected in this volume have been chosen to show the evolution of education in Tudor and Stuart England and to illustrate some of the social and political pressures bearing on education during the 16th and 17th centuries. The emphasis is on formal education, on the efforts of governments, philanthropists, religious writers, social critics and other leaders of opinion, as well as the schoolmasters themselves, to direct the educational enterprise of Tudor and Stuart England.

February 1976 160 pages
$16.95, clothbound

DEATH, DISEASE AND FAMINE IN PRE-INDUSTRIAL ENGLAND

Leslie A. Clarkson

Dr. Clarkson examines the major causes of mortality, the state of food supply, and epidemics, in pre-industrial England. He also examines some of the more violent ways of dying and looks at the ways the dead were buried, the attitude of the survivors and the economic and social consequences of high mortality. Finally he analyzes why life expectancy rates increased from the mid-18th century on.

February 1976 200 pages
$17.95, clothbound

St. Martin's Press

P.O. Box 5352
New York, N.Y. 10017

