Studies in Second Language Acquisition will consider for publication contributions in applied linguistics of a general theoretical and methodological interest, as well as reports of rigorously conducted research. Material submitted for consideration may be written in English, French, German, or Spanish; an abstract not exceeding 200 words and drafted in English must accompany each submission.

To be considered for publication, contributions should be typed double spaced with margins of at least one and one-half inches. Authors should follow the typographical and reference conventions of such journals as Language and Journal of Linguistics. Three copies (xerox or original and carbons) are required for all articles. Studies in Second Language Acquisition will not consider material submitted to other journals and will retain copyright of published articles. Contributors will receive 2 copies of the issue in which their article appears and 10 reprints of their own contribution. Accepted articles will appear within one year after receipt of final typescript. All typescripts and inquiries should be addressed to: Editor, Studies in Second Language Acquisition, Lindley Hall 017, Indiana University, Bloomington, IN 47401.

Studies in Second Language Acquisition will appear at least twice each year, in November and May. Initially, issues will be distributed separately at a cost of $4.00. Orders should be addressed to:
