Specialia

A multi-disciplinary journal published with the co-sponsorship of the Latin American Institute, Southern Illinois University. The first issue, which appeared at the end of 1969, contained 12 articles under the general theme of Interamericana. The second issue of this occasional publication will present a series of articles for the Ruben Darío centenary. Primary purpose is to make available and keep in print key publications and to use multi disciplinary contributions which have no outlet at present. Library subscriptions for the next 10 issues cost $40, there are reduced rates for individuals. Contributions and correspondence to: A. W. Bork, Editor and Charles Ekker, Managing Editor, Latin American Institute, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Illinois 62901.

World List of Future International Meetings

This publication will be discontinued after the September 1969 issue.

LIBRARIES AND ARCHIVES

The Foreign Affairs Research Documentation Center of the Office of External Research, U.S. Department of State, published in July 1969 Special Papers Available: Latin America which lists all papers received during the last four years. It is preceded by an outline of "research needs" prepared by the Subcommittee on Latin America of the Foreign Affairs Research Coordination Group. The center would appreciate any contributions of papers prepared by Latin Americanists. Address these to: Miss Idris Rossell, Chief, Academic Research Documentation Division, Office of External Research, Department of State, Washington, D.C. 20520.

The Foreign Area Materials Center in New York has prepared lists of current holdings in several areas of study. Requests should be made to the Institute at 866, United Nations Plaza, New York, N. Y. 10017 or to 1346 Connecticut Avenue, N.W. Washington, D. C. 20036.

The Hispanic Foundation of the Library of Congress plans publication of the revised edition of the National Directory of Latin Americanists for Spring 1970.

Since 1961, the Survey Research Center, in association with the Institute of International Studies has been developing the International Data Library and Reference Service. This is designed to assist social scientists in obtaining, processing and analysing existing materials, with special emphasis on Asia and Latin America. Materials collected include codes, questionnaires and data in the form of IBM cards. Information is available on political attitudes and behavior, attitudes towards foreign nations and international relations, patterns of stratification and mobilization, family structure relations and family planning, personal and public ethics, religious beliefs and practices, standards of living, material needs and economic outlook as well as other subjects of interest to social scientists. The Reference Service will help scholars collect original material and design their studies, including the drafting of questionnaires and interview guides. For further information write to: International Library and Reference Service, Survey Research Center, University of California, 2220 Piedmont Avenue, Berkeley, California 94720.

The first countries in which information was collected for the Latin American Data Archive were Venezuela and Chile. Oscar Cornblit and Jorge Garcia Bouza were coordinators of this project, sponsored by CLASCO, UNESCO, and the Rockefeller Foundation. Carlos S. Borsotti of the Universidad Nacional de Chile and Ruth Hurtado of the Centro de Estudios de Desarrollo de la Universidad Central de Venezuela (CENDES) are regional coordinators. The Instituto Torcuato di Tella, Buenos Aires is to organize the data, and copies of the inventory will be kept in Chile, Venezuela and Buenos Aires. For further information, write to the coordinators at the Centro de Investigaciones Sociales del Instituto Torcuato di Tella, Virrey del Pino 3230, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

The National Archives and Records Service has just released lists of microfilm publications on Europe, Latin America, Africa, the Near and Far East, and the Pacific Ocean. Write to their Publications Sales Branch, National Archives, Washington, D. C. 20405.

The Pan American Union has just published Cooperative Acquisitions of Latin American Materials by Marietta Daniels Shepard. This was prepared for the 2nd Inter American Meeting of Agricultural Librarians and Documentalists, Bogotá, Colombia, December 2-7, 1968. It is number 50 in the series of Cuadernos Bibliotecológicos of the Library Development Program, Department of Cultural Affairs, Pan American Union, Washington, D. C. 20006.

A series of Reports on Brazilian Agriculture has been compiled by William H. Nicholls, Professor of Economics and Director of the Graduate Center for Latin American Studies, Vanderbilt University, and Ruy Miller Paiva, of the Getulio Vargas Foundation, Rio de Janeiro. The series, Ninety-nine Fazendas: the Structure and Productivity of Brazilian Agriculture 1963 comprises regional reports on the Itapecuru Valley of Maranhão, the Cariri Region of Ceará, the Agreste of Pernambuco, the Minas triangle, the North of Paraná, and, (in preparation) the Valley of the Paraíba and Central and Northern Río Grande do Sul. Each report covers in great detail the physical inputs and outputs, gross and net value of sales, cropping patterns and practices, livestock production techniques, land tenure arrangements and net incomes of landlord and worker families, together with various measures of efficiency and productivity of local agriculture. Sections on physical geography and history and a final section on the results of the computation of statistical aggregate production functions are included. Write to: Graduate Center for Latin American Studies, P. O. Box 1806, Station B, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee 37203.

The University of California at Riverside has listed microfilms on Brazil and Cuba available for immediate distribution. These include: Granma, official organ of the Cuban Communist Party, from the first issue in 1966 through 1968; Imprensa Popular, Río de Janeiro official daily of the Brazilian Communist Party, from 1951 through 1958; and various socialist and communist publications of Brazil: issues of Vanguarda Socialista, Resenha Socialista, Fôlha Socialista, Accção Socialista, A Luta, O Popular, and the statutes of the Liga Socialista Independente de São Paulo, 1956. Further details from: The Latin American Research Program, University of California, Riverside, California 82502.

The University of Minnesota Press is planning a 10 volume historical series to be entitled the Age of European Expansion. It will present a comprehensive survey, reinterpretation and reappraisal of Europe's expansion in the mid 15th century. The impact and legacy of Europe on the rest of the world will be considered from various points of view. Series editor will be Boyd C. Shafer, James Wallace Professor of History at McAlister College. Volume 3, by L. N. McAllister of the University of Florida will deal with the growth of the Iberian Empire in America.
