
The Autobiography of Emperor Haile Sellassie I

'My Life and Ethiopia's Progress' 1892-1937

Translated and annotated
by Edward Ullendorff

'Of all the countries of Africa, Ethiopia exerts the most powerful spell on the imagination. For most of this century Haile Sellassie has dominated, almost embodied, Ethiopia, in a career that had its vicissitudes though it also saw major achievements. . . . This volume of autobiography was dictated in 1937 while Haile Sellassie was in exile in Bath. . . . It has found as translator the one man ideally equipped to take on the task. Edward Ullendorff . . . has produced a subtle and highly evocative rendering.' The Economist £6.

A Descriptive Catalogue of the Pre-1868 Japanese Books, Manuscripts, and Prints

In the Library of the School of Oriental and African Studies

D. G. Chibbett, B. F. Hickman, and S. Matsudaira

This Catalogue contains a representative cross-section of the various types of printed books produced during the Edo period (1603-1868), although little in the way of rare works or incunabula. There are annotated entries for some seven hundred items and photographs of some of the more important and attractive books and prints. Illustrated. £10

Collected Papers 1912-1973

R. L. Turner

These articles bring together Sir Ralph Turner's many contributions to periodical literature over a period of more than sixty years. In the words of Professor John Brough, they 'carry their own authority, and everywhere display the erudition and meticulous attention to detail characteristic of their author'. £10

These books are published for the School of Oriental and African Studies by

Oxford University Press
