

---

DRY FARMING IN THE NORTHERN GREAT PLAINS 1900-1925

By MARY WILMA M. HARGREAVES. The story of agricultural settlement on the semi-arid lands of eastern Montana and the western Dakotas—its promotion and development, its problems and achievements—is the subject of this well-documented analytical narrative. Here is a cogent case study in the heavy cost of uncontrolled economic development. $10.00

ECONOMIC CONCENTRATION AND THE MONOPOLY PROBLEM

EDWARD S. MASON reviews here the course of economic thinking on the problems of monopoly over the last 20 years. In clear and readable terms, he discusses such topics as the large firm in American economy and the various alleged effects of economic concentration on competition; the behavior of prices and wage rates and its consequences in the cycle; and the raw materials problem in relation to economic growth and national security. $6.00

BUSINESS CYCLES AND ECONOMIC POLICY

By ERIK LUNDBERG. Translated by J. POTTER. What has been the effect of the theories of such economists as Wicksell, Myrdal, and Hammerskjold on the shaping of Swedish economic policy from 1918 to 1953? How does the record of the more general monetary policies of the inter-war years compare with that of the detailed regulations which have been so popular since 1945? This book, written by the former Chairman of the Swedish Government Commission on full employment and monetary stability, offers an authoritative discussion of these questions and of Swedish economic thinking in general since World War I. $6.50

THE BRAZILIAN COTTON MANUFACTURE

Textile Enterprise in an Underdeveloped Area, 1850-1950

By STANLEY J. STEIN. This book explores the background against which the Brazilian cotton industry developed, and the effects of the early feudal plantation system on later thinking. Mr. Stein discusses the delays in modernization, the problems of sudden prosperity and postwar retrenchment, and the need for certain revisions in the current policies of government and management. An illuminating account of the growth of a modern industry in an underdeveloped area, this is a book of far-reaching implications for those concerned with the development of "backward" countries. $5.00

Through your bookseller, or from

HARVARD UNIVERSITY PRESS

79 Garden Street, Cambridge 38, Massachusetts

---

Please mention THE JOURNAL when answering advertisements

Popular Economics Texts from Prentice-Hall . . .

1

INTRODUCTION TO ECONOMICS, 2nd Ed.

by THEODORE MORGAN, University of Wisconsin

THIS TEXT SHOWS the empirical and policy relevance of all phases of economic analysis. It skillfully ties together theory, statistics, and verbal description. Gives equal weight to micro-economics and macro-economics. The two main sections are: first, the consumer, the firm, and the industry (micro-economics); and second, income and employment (macro-economics).

800 pp. 6" x 9" Pub. 1956 Text price $6.75

2

A HISTORY OF ECONOMIC THOUGHT, 3rd Ed.

by ERIC ROLL, Undersecretary in the Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food, England

WIDE IN SCOPE, this text covers economic thought from the most primitive thoughts to the refined and complicated analysis of today. The student is carried down through the years and feels for himself the impetus of economic development on our present way of life. New features include: an entirely new section on Keynes; a new chapter of present day theory with special emphasis on the national income approach.

540 pp. 6" x 9" Pub. 1956 Text price $6.50

3

AMERICAN ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

by HERMAN E. KROOSS, New York University

THE AMERICAN STANDARD of living—how it was achieved and what its effects have been—is the subject of this popular, short economic history of the United States. Emphasizing the factors of production, how they evolved, what they contributed and what they received, the text evaluates the progress we have made in raising our standard of living.

536 pp. 6" x 9" Pub. 1955 Text price $6.00

To receive approval copies promptly, write: Box 903

PRENTICE-HALL, Inc.

Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey

Please mention THE JOURNAL when answering advertisements