

BOOKS FOR LENT AND EASTER

THE PAIN OF CHRIST GERALD VANN, O.P.

Under the author's guidance we relive the scenes surrounding the Passion and death of Christ. We are taken back to the garden in which the Redeemer kneels in agony. We are shown the Mother of God painfully silent in her grief, and we are led to the presence of the two thieves, each of whom understands what the mercy of God could do for him.

NO ABIDING CITY BEDE JARRETT, O.P.

'Paper covered, 70 or so odd pages, first published over 20 years ago, over 30,000 copies sold already. No Abiding City is surely due now for another 10,000 or 20,000 sales. Fr Bede Jarrett does not date or age, despite his easy almost familiar style. These Lenten conferences are as good and readable today as when first published in 1934.'

THE LAST WEEK A DOMINICAN TERTIARY

'Here is a book of meditations on the last week of Our Lord's life leading up to the Stations of the Cross. Quotations from the Scriptures, the saints, the doctors and the poets are woven together skilfully. Such a book will be of great assistance in arousing the right thoughts when we are saying the sorrowful mysteries or making the Stations.'

READING FOR LENT

PURPLE TIMES

Fr Michael Hollings

Twice in the year the Church keeps 'purple times'—during the seasons of Advent and Lent. The Altar coverings and the vestments of the priests are purple, signifying that these are times when the Church calls for extra prayer and penance. In this book, Father Hollings emphasizes forcefully the need for prayer and penance in our daily lives.

WITH CHRIST TO CALVARY

Fr David Greenstock

Fr Greenstock, who is Vice-Rector of the English College at Valladolid in Spain, here presents a book of short meditations on Holy Scripture designed to give a dominating thought for each day of Lent, which will be specially welcomed by those who have no time or inclination for lengthy reading.
