Orbis

A Journal of World Affairs

Bored by airy “reflections” on world events? Tired of reading the same Big Thinkers, year after year? Put off by academese and bureaucratic jargon?

So are we.

That’s why Orbis doesn’t publish musings called “Whither the World?” Nor speculative articles by somebody who used to be somebody.

Orbis does publish articles explaining today’s news — by writers who know what they’re talking about.

Articles like:

- “Why the U.S. Can’t Stop South American Cocaine,”
by Rensselaer Lee
- “How to Negotiate with Gorbachev’s Team,”
by David Jones
- “Islam in the Palestinian Uprising,” by Robert Satloff
- “America — Bully of World Trade,” by William Niskanen

And as for writing: Frankly, we give our authors a hard time — so that you won’t have a hard time understanding them.

The result? Illuminating analyses. Lucid arguments. Readable prose. In the end, a world made more intelligible for you.

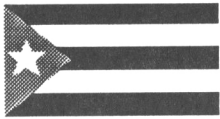

Orbis.

A RECONSTRUCTION STRATEGY FOR POST-CASTRO CUBA: A PRELIMINARY OUTLINE OF THE STRATEGIES FOR RECONSTRUCTION AND DEVELOPMENT IN THE PROCESS OF DECOLLECTIVIZATION AND DESOCIALIZATION

Antonio Jorge

Antonio Jorge, a prominent political economist, provides an analysis of the present economic and social conditions in Cuba and a proposal for economic reconstruction of the island after the communist system is eliminated. (1991, also available in Spanish)

CUBA IN A CHANGING WORLD

Antonio Jorge, Jaime Suchlicki, and Adolfo Leyva de Varona, Editors

This compilation of thought-provoking papers covers a wide range of topics including Cuban internationalism, domestic policies, and the future of Cuba. Among the contributors are Irving L. Horowitz, Jeanne Kirkpatrick, and Gonzalo Facio. (1991)

CUBAN LEADERSHIP AFTER CASTRO: BIOGRAPHIES OF CUBA'S TOP COMMANDERS

Rafael Fermoselle

In addition to providing biographies of Cuba's top military leaders, this book presents a road map for understanding the possible course of events in Cuba after Fidel Castro. It identifies and seeks relationships, loyalties, relative influence, and comparisons among top political and military leaders in communist Cuba. (Second edition, 1991)

ATTENTION AUTHORS

The JOURNAL OF INTERAMERICAN STUDIES AND WORLD AFFAIRS publishes articles which deal primarily with contemporary US-Latin American relations, US foreign policy regarding Latin America, Latin American nations' relations with each other and the rest of the world, and Latin American internal affairs when such have clear implications for foreign policy. The editors also welcome from scholars and public figures worldwide, articles about political, economic, cultural, and social aspects of Latin American interrelationships.

This is a refereed journal. All submissions are sent to qualified reviewers to determine acceptance for publication.

Send manuscripts in duplicate to address below, typewritten and double spaced. Place footnotes, references, tables, and charts on separate pages following current JOURNAL style. Tables and charts should be of camera-ready quality. A brief biographical paragraph describing the author's current affiliation, recent publications, and research interests should accompany the manuscript. Correspondence regarding book reviews should be directed to the Book Review Editor at the address below.
