

Parents and children in oral acting and dietary habits. By E. HARJU and E. VÄISÄNEN	109A
Muscle phosphofructokinase deficiency (Tarui's disease). By M. J. TARLOW, D. A. ELLIS, G. W. PEARCE and M. ANDERSON	110A
Fructose 1,6 diphosphatase deficiency. By M. J. TARLOW, A. D. PATRICK, D. R. CARLTON and M. E. BARTON	111A
Management of hepatic glycogen storage disease with regular oral glucose drinks. By D. B. DUNGER and J. V. LEONARD	112A
The nursing couple and the anti-infective qualities of fats. By MAVIS GUNTHER	113A
Studies of lipase activity in human milk. By B. HALL, D. P. R. MULLER and J. T. HARRIES	114A
Relation between storage, cooking time and available lysine in cow peas (Vigna sinensis). By KAUSAR ALMAS and A. E. BENDER	115A
 Three Hundred and Thirty-fifth Scientific Meeting One Hundred and Thirty-first Scottish Meeting Freedom Inn, Aviemore 2 and 3 OCTOBER 1979
Effect of diet upon serum ribonuclease concentration in the rat. By A. SHENKIN and S. BIELECKA	117A
Maternal and foetal glucose metabolism in the exercising pregnant ewe. By K. D. CHANDLER, SHAO-LIM MAU and A. W. BELL	118A
Alternative uses for the liquid scintillation counter in general laboratory techniques. By R. C. NOBLE and J. H. SHAND ...	119A
Effect of dilution rate on distribution and composition of bacterial matter in Rusitec, using soluble food in presence of undigested hay residues. By J. W. CZERKAWSKI and GRACE BRECKENRIDGE	120A
The effect of diet on the citric acid and soluble calcium content of cow's milk. By I. H. L. ORMROD, P. C. THOMAS and J. V. WHELOCK	121A
The nutritive value of feed proteins which escape degradation in the rumen. By J. C. MATHERS, R. J. THOMAS, N. A. M. GRAY and I. L. JOHNSON	122A
Retention time and digestibility of milled hay in sheep and red deer (Cervus elaphus). By M. SANCHEZ-HERMOSILLO and R. N. B. KAY	123A
Possible use of urinary nitrate as a measure of total nitrate intake. By BARBARA BARTHOLOMEW, CHRISTINE CAYGILL, RANJNA DARBAR and M. J. HILL	124A
Whole-body protein synthesis and oxidation rates in streptozotocin diabetic rats. By E. C. ALBERTSE, P. J. GARLICK and V. M. PAIN	125A
Food intake in relation to dietary energy and nitrogen concentrations in 'lean' and 'fatty' Zucker rats. By RUTH B. S. HARRIS, G. R. HERVEY and G. TOBIN	126A
Voluntary food intake in Zucker rats in relation to protein intake fixed by tube-feeding. By NELIDA A. GARCIA, RUTH B. S. HARRIS, G. R. HERVEY and G. TOBIN	127A
Predicted and measured performance of Friesian cows fed on rations calculated to differ in rumen degradable protein and undegraded protein. By J. D. OLDHAM, W. H. BROSTER, D. J. NAPPER and T. SMITH	128A
A new automatic method for measuring dry matter and nitrogen flow through re-entrant cannulas in the duodenum of growing pigs. By A. G. LOW	129A
Effect of type of carbohydrate on the production of microbial nitrogen in the rumen. By F. J. HART and E. R. ØRSKOV ...	130A
The effect of proportion of concentrate and method of cereal processing on type of rumen fermentation and milk quality in Friesian cows. By E. R. ØRSKOV and G. W. REID	131A
Some aspects of nitrogen metabolism during simulated saturation dives of up to 43 bar (420 metres of sea water). By R. F. CARLYLE, SHIRLEY-ANN COLLIS and M. P. GARRARD	132A
Rates of protein synthesis in rat liver and small intestine in protein deprivation and diabetes. By MARGARET A. McNURLAN and P. J. GARLICK	133A
The effect of a protein extraction process on some apparent digestibility coefficients of fresh pasture. By T. E. TRIGG and A. M. BRYANT	134A
Treatment of bovine hypocuprosis by the oral administration of cupric oxide needles. By N. F. SUTTLE	135A
The importance of non-skeletal muscle sources of urinary 3-methylhistidine in the rat. By P. C. BATES, G. K. GRIMBLE and D. J. MILLWARD	136A
Cathepsin D and acid autolytic activity in skeletal muscle of protein deficient, severely protein-energy restricted and refed rats. By S. ROBOCHACKI and D. J. MILLWARD	137A
Prospective laboratory methods for estimating the susceptibility of feed proteins to microbial breakdown in the rumen. By D. G. CHAMBERLAIN and P. C. THOMAS	138A
Catabolism of branched-chain amino acids by ruminant muscle. By B. JANE COWARD and P. J. BUTTERY	139A
The effect of energy restriction on nitrogen balances in obese subjects on varying protein intakes. By P. S. SHETTY, R. T. JUNG and W. P. T. JAMES	140A
The influence of dietary fibre on faecal nitrogen excretion in man. By ALISON M. STEPHEN and J. H. CUMMINGS ...	141A
Ruminal and post-ruminal digestion of pasture herbage by grazing lambs. By J. L. CORBETT, F. S. PICKERING and C. J. PEREZ	142A
Nitrogen intake, digestion and retention by grazing lambs. By J. L. CORBETT and C. J. PEREZ	143A
Phosphatidyl choline as a marker of duodenal flow of rumen protozoa in sheep. By A. JOHN and M. J. ULYATT	144A
The use of lactating ewes in evaluating protein sources for ruminants. By J. S. GONZALEZ, J. J. ROBINSON, I. McHATTIE and A. Z. MEHREZ	145A
Efficiency of microbial protein synthesis in cattle. By P. A. MEGGISON, N. P. McMENIMAN and D. G. ARMSTRONG ...	146A
Efficiency of utilization of non protein-nitrogen in cattle. By P. A. MEGGISON, N. P. McMENIMAN and D. G. ARMSTRONG	147A
An attempted evaluation of the proposed ARC protein system with reference to the lactating cow. By P. A. BRETT, M. ALMOND, D. G. HARRISON, P. ROWLINSON, J. ROOKE and D. G. ARMSTRONG	148A
Maternal weight, reproduction, calf mortality and calf growth in farmed red deer (Cervus elaphus). By K. L. BLAXTER and W. J. HAMILTON	149A
Voluntary intake of feed and equilibrium body-weight in sheep. By K. L. BLAXTER and J. C. GILL	150A

SYMPOSIUM PROCEEDINGS

Three Hundred and Twenty-ninth Scientific Meeting
Barnes Lecture Theatre of the Royal Society of Medicine, London
 24 APRIL 1979

CARBOHYDRATE METABOLISM IN THE RUMINANT

Chairman: P. J. BUTTERY, University of Nottingham School of Agriculture, Sutton Bonington, Loughborough

	PAGE
Carbohydrate chemistry and rumen digestion. By I. M. MORRISON	269
Carbohydrate fermentation in the rumen variations on a theme. By J. D. SUTTON	275

Chairman: A. W. A. BURT, Burt Research Limited, 23 Stow Road, Kimbolton, Huntingdon

The fate of carbohydrates in the small and large intestines of the ruminant. By D. G. ARMSTRONG and R. R. SMITHARD	283
Metabolism in the whole animal. By D. B. LINDSAY	295
Production and the prediction of growth. By D. J. THOMSON	303
The role of carbohydrate metabolism in the regulation of milk production. By J. A. F. ROOK	309

Three Hundred and Thirty-first Scientific Meeting

Royal Free Hospital, London

12 and 13 JULY 1979

DIETARY MANAGEMENT OF DISEASE

Chairman: N. MCINTYRE, Royal Free Hospital, London

The dietary management of phenylketonuria. By JENNIFER COUTTS	315
The dietary management of hepatic glycogen storage disease. By J. V. LEONARD, D. E. M. FRANCIS and D. B. DUNGER	321

Chairman: I. MACDONALD, Guy's Hospital Medical School, London

Dietary management of familial hyperlipidaemias. By R. J. WEST and A. SHAW	325
Dietary management of liver disease. By E. CAROL BATEMAN	331
Renal osteodystrophy: dietary influences and management. By Z. VARGHESE, K. FARRINGTON and J. F. MOORHEAD	337

Chairman: DAME SHEILA SHERLOCK, Royal Free Hospital, London

Diabetic retinopathy and carbohydrate metabolism. By YVONNE C. SOLOMON	351
Dietary management of diabetic children. By CHRISTINE CLOTHIER	359
The dietary management of diaetes in adults. By A. R. LEEDS	365

Chairman: J. S. GARROW, MRC Clinical Research Centre, Harrow

Dietary management in multiple sclerosis. By M. A. CRAWFORD, P. BUDOWSKI and A. G. HASSAM	373
Nature and diagnosis of food allergy. By A. M. DENMAN	391
Elemental diets in the treatment of Crohn's disease. By C. O'MORAIN	403

ABSTRACTS OF COMMUNICATIONS

Three Hundred and Thirty-third Scientific Meeting

Institute of Child Health, Guilford Street, London

19 SEPTEMBER 1979

Branched-chain amino acid metabolism in low birth weight babies and the effects of dietary protein quality. By P. H. SCOTT, H. M. BERGER and B. A. WHARTON	98A
Cell size and cell number: a reconsideration of organ growth and catch-up potential. By J. DOBBING, JEAN SANDS and CHARMAINE A. GRATRAX	99A
The effect of a diet rich in linoleic acid on foetal brain lipids. By T. A. B. SANDERS and D. J. NAISMITH	100A
Aspects of sulphur metabolism in low birth weight babies. By H. M. BERGER, P. H. SCOTT and B. A. WHARTON	101A
Nutritional anaemia in childhood coeliac disease. By D. STEVENS	102A
The nutrition of the Asian immigrant mother in relation to birth weight. By J. G. BISSENDEN, P. H. SCOTT and B. A. WHARTON	103A
Effect on vitamin D metabolism of reconstructive surgery in children with tracheo-oesophageal fistulas. By L. S. TAITZ, I. SPITZ and R. G. RUSSELL	104A
Taurine in breast milk: a role in fat utilization. By D. J. NAISMITH and KAREN N. CASHEL	105A
The role of zinc in childhood diabetes mellitus. By F. W. ALEXANDER	106A
The role of hyperinsulinaemia in chemically induced obesity. By G. P. WEBB, P. D. ROGERS and S. A. JAGOT	107A
Lipoprotein lipase and hepatic lipase activities in children with hyperlipidaemia. By T. R. GAMLEN, D. P. R. MULLER and O. H. WOLFF	108A
