* We greatly regret to observe that the "American Index Medicus" has been discontinued. Such an enterprise deserved a better fate. The death of the publisher appears to have hastened the discontinuance of this useful work. This Association at once responded to the appeal made some time ago for help, and not only subscribed to the Index, but guaranteed to pay a certain sum towards the expenses. But it seems that a sufficient number did not pursue the same course. Hence its lamented demise.
