EDITORIAL POLICY

Journal of Developmental Origins of Health and Disease publishes leading research in the field of developmental origins of health and disease (DOHaD), focusing on how the environment during early animal and human development, and interactions between environmental and genetic factors, influence health in later life and risk of disease. It publishes original research articles, short communications and reviews, and plans regular themed issues, with guest editors; it is also a platform for conference/workshop reports, and for opinion, comment and interaction. The journal is multi-disciplinary, with contributions from basic scientists working in the fields of physiology, nutrition, endocrinology and metabolism, developmental biology, molecular biology and epigenetics, human biology and anthropology, evolutionary developmental biology, and clinicians, nutritionists, epidemiologists, social scientists, economists, public health specialists and policy makers.
