

Appendix B

Policy Texts

This appendix includes copies of the twenty-first-century language policies that I discuss in detail. I have included these texts because while they are ostensibly public information (and not under copyright because they are US government documents), they are not easily accessible. Many earlier key US language policies are published elsewhere, often in one of two places: Crawford's (1992) Language loyalties: A source book on the Official English controversy and Crawford's (2002) digital Language Legislation Archives.

I have sought to capture the original structure, capitalization, and uses of bold as closely as possible. At times, the layouts and font styles may seem peculiar – sometimes text is in all caps and sometimes not, sometimes text is aligned to the right side of the page and sometimes not, sometimes clauses end with a period and sometimes not, and so on. This level of variation is typical of government policy texts in the United States.

The one typographical intervention I make here is to indicate revisions made between rough and final drafts. Key revisions affected Frederick County's 2012 Ordinance and Queen Anne's County's 2012 Ordinance. If words were present in a rough draft but people deleted them during the revision process, I show that by ~~crossing out that passage~~. If people added content during the revision process, I show that by italicizing those words. I will note that there are a few instances in the original texts where text is italicized, but it was never used to emphasize particular ideas, and so I have opted to just leave those passages as plain text, so as to use italics only to designate newly added content.

Finally, readers may wonder about a third kind of revision – rearranging text to go earlier or later in the document. I looked for those kinds of organizational edits, but they did not appear in any of these particular texts.

Frederick County's Ordinance, 2012 (passed, later repealed)

THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS ORDINANCE IS FEBRUARY 22, 2012

ORDINANCE NO. 12-03-598

RE: Frederick County Official English Ordinance

The English language is the common language of Frederick County, Maryland and of the United States;

The use of a common language removes barriers of misunderstanding and helps to unify the people of Frederick County, this State and the United States, and helps to enable the full economic and civic participation of all its citizens, regardless of national origin, creed, race or other characteristics, and thus a compelling governmental interest exists in promoting, preserving, and strengthening the use of the English language;

Proficiency in the English language, as well as in languages other than the English language, benefits Frederick County both economically and culturally and should be encouraged;

In addition to any other ways to promote proficiency in the English language, the Board of County Commissioners of Frederick County, Maryland (BOCC) can promote proficiency in English by using the English language in its official actions and activities;

In today's society, Frederick County may also need to protect and preserve the rights of those who speak only the English language to use or obtain governmental programs and benefits; and

The BOCC can reduce costs and promote efficiency, in its roles as employer and a government accountable to the people, by using the English language in its official actions and activities.

The BOCC held a duly advertised public hearing on this proposed Ordinance on February 21, 2012. The public had an opportunity to comment at this public hearing.

Section 1. Official English Declaration

- A. The English language is the official language of Frederick County.
- B. The BOCC and officials of Frederick County shall take all steps necessary to ensure that the role of English as the common language of Frederick County is preserved and enhanced.
- C. The BOCC shall make no ordinance which diminishes or ignores the role of English as the common language of Frederick County.

- D. Official actions of Frederick County which bind or commit Frederick County or which give the appearance of presenting the official views or position of Frederick County shall be taken in the English language. Unofficial or non-binding translations or explanations of official actions may be provided separately in languages other than English, if they are appropriately labelled as such and reference is made to a method to obtain the official action; unless otherwise required by federal or state law, no person has a right to such an unofficial or non-binding translation or explanation, and no liability or commitment of Frederick County shall be based on such a translation or explanation.
- E. No ordinance, decree, program, or policy of Frederick County shall require the use of any language other than English for any documents, regulations, orders, transactions, proceedings, meetings, programs, or publications, except as provided in Section 2.
- F. ~~A person who speaks only the English language shall be eligible to participate in all programs, benefits and opportunities, including employment, provided by Frederick County (providing all other eligibility requirements are satisfied), except when required to speak another language as provided in Section 2.~~
- G. No law, ordinance, decree, program, or policy of Frederick County shall penalize or impair the rights, obligations or opportunities available to any person solely because a person speaks only the English language.

Section 2. Exceptions

- I. To utilize terms of art or terms or phrases from other languages which are commonly used in communications otherwise in English;
- J. Printed materials, signage, or other materials or documents of Frederick County printed in languages other than English at the time of the adoption of this ordinance and not otherwise excepted in this Section 2 shall not be discarded or reprinted solely in English at the addition [sic] cost or expense of the taxpayers of Frederick County until they are exhausted or become otherwise obsolete;
- K. For any other worthy, justifiable or appropriate action approved by the Board of County Commissioners.

Section 3. Official Functions

Notwithstanding any other state law and except as provided in section 2 of this Ordinance, nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed to prohibit any elected official, officer, agent, employee of the state or a political subdivision, while performing official functions, from communicating unofficially through any medium with another person in a language other than English (as long as official functions are performed in English).

Section 4. Private Use Protected

The declaration and use of English as the official language of Frederick County should not be construed as infringing upon the rights of any person to use a language other than English in private communications or actions, including the right of government officials (including elected officials) to communicate with others while not performing official actions of Frederick County.

FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, MARYLAND

By: Council Member Fitzwater. Co-Sponsor Council Vice President

AN ACT to: Repeal Ordinance No. 12-03-598, for the purpose of promoting a competitive business climate for Frederick County's existing 6,200 businesses which employ 79,000 workers; attracting new life science businesses and jobs that will move Frederick County closer to becoming the State's bio-tech hub; ensuring that non-English language speakers are not deterred from reporting crimes, seeking medical care or other human services; and generally relating to Frederick County's encouragement of multi-linguistic acceptance, tolerance and multi-cultural diversity in an increasingly global economy.

By amending:
Frederick County Code, Chapter N/A

Bill No. 15-08

The Board of County Commissioners of Frederick County, Maryland, enacted Ordinance No. 12-03-598, titled "Frederick County Official English Ordinance" (Ordinance), effective February 22, 2012.

The Ordinance proclaimed English as the official language of Frederick County. The Ordinance required that official actions which bind or commit Frederick County or which give the appearance of presenting the official views or positions of Frederick County be taken in the English language.

The County Council of Frederick County, Maryland, (Council) finds that the Ordinance, and the perception it has created, constitutes a barrier to good business and impedes the growth and development of business and commercial endeavors in Frederick County.

The Council has determined that in order to broaden the appeal of Frederick County to the business community, and to attract and retain businesses and employees in the biotech and life science segments of the commercial economy, Frederick County must and does embrace diversity.

The Council determines and believes that Frederick County is, and should be, a welcoming community to all, with pride in the diversity of cultures and individuals who participate in and promote the well-being and growth of the County.

The Council finds that there are numerous federal and Maryland State laws and regulations that currently exist which require translation and interpretation to facilitate and recognize the increasing diversity of persons residing in Frederick County.

The Council further finds and determines that the Ordinance impedes the integration of diverse culture and values into our community and is contrary to the tolerance and acceptance of all individuals which is a hallmark of the community which is Frederick County.

In light of these circumstances, the Council has determined that it is necessary and proper, and in the best interest of the residents of Frederick County, that the Ordinance be repealed.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ENACTED, that Ordinance 12-03-598, attached hereto as Exhibit A, be, and the same is hereby, REPEALED.

Harold F. (Bud) Otis, President (signed)
County Council of Frederick County, Maryland
