'Tabloid' BRAND.

Compressed

Drugs.

'Tabloid'

Red
Gum.

RED GUM, an exudation from the Australian Eucalyptus rostrata, is a valuable astringent, used chiefly as an application to the mucous membranes of the throat. Many preparations are found to affect the appetite and offend the palate, but 'Tabloid' Red Gum, whilst extremely effective in use, is pleasant to take and does not cause a distaste for food. It is supplied in boxes of 30, at 5d.; and in bottles of 100, at 1s.

'Tabloid'
Krameria and Cocaine.

R Ext. Krameria . . . gr. 1 [0.065 gm.]
Cocain. Hydrochlor. gr. 1/20 [0.0032 gm.]

THE therapeutic value of this combination of the astringent, krameria, and sedative, cocaine, is well known, and has received official recognition. The 'Tabloid' preparation will be found superior to lozenges or pastilles, because when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, a full, direct and continuous action on the mucous membranes of the throat is secured. 'Tabloid' Krameria and Cocaine is supplied in boxes of 30, at 5d.; and bottles of 100, at 1s.
