on Faith and Reason

Joseph Fitzer

Two conceptions of the church vied for ascendancy in Roman Catholicism of the last century, Joseph Fitzer maintains: “a church arising out of the spirit of the people, and a church that heeds the voice of Peter.” That struggle, between “romance” and “the rock,” was engaged theologically in a century-long debate over faith and reason that involved issues of authority, revelation, the historicity of dogma, and the roles of the church and the state.

This unique reader in nineteenth-century Catholic thought provides a crucial backdrop to the development of Catholic social teaching and tensions in the church today.

THE ALBERT C. OUTLER PRIZE IN ECUMENICAL CHURCH HISTORY

The Outler Prize was established to encourage the critical study of ecumenical church history, broadly conceived, and to facilitate the publication of such studies. "Ecumenical" is to be construed as chiefly concerned with the problems of Christian unity-and-disunity (doctrinal, cultural, institutional) in any period of church history; or with interactions between Christianity and other religious movements. Works of a partisan nature are excluded. The following categories are eligible:

- a. Studies, chiefly narrative and critical, of ecumenical church history dealing with historical controversies and divisions, or with notable instances of reconciliation and consensus.
- b. Analyses of church councils, dialogues, and debates, or interactions between Christianity and other religious traditions.
- c. Biographical studies of significant leaders, or of persons whose involvement in ecumenical dialogue and action was noteworthy.
- d. Critical editions (preferably annotated) of significant ecumenical documents.
- e. Bibliographical reviews and evaluations in major areas of ecumenical church history.
- f. Pioneering studies that advance scholarly knowledge and ecumenical understanding.

The prize consists of an award of $1000 to the author and a possible grant of up to $3000 for publication (or in exceptional cases, for necessary expenses in the preparation of a book-length manuscript accepted for publication). The prize will be awarded annually, though no award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding. Complete manuscripts in final form must be received by William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 328 Deland Avenue, Indialantic, FL 32903, by 1 June. The prize will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in December.

ALTERED LANDSCAPES

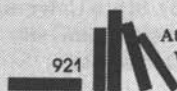

Christianity in America 1935-1985

Edited by David W. Lotz with Donald W. Shriver, Jr., and John F. Wilson

In this in-depth exploration of the most significant developments in American Christianity from 1935-1985, twenty-one noted scholars provide a coherent description and interpretation of what Martin E. Marty, in the introduction, calls the "altered landscapes" of religion in America over the last fifty years. Though each contribution maintains a distinctive perspective, together they seek to identify and make sense of the changing — and continuing — patterns of Christian life and thought during a half century when American society became increasingly pluralistic, not least in its religion.

Contributors: Martin E. Marty • Leonard I. Sweet • Jay P. Dolan • George M. Marsden • Albert J. Raboteau • H. George Anderson • James F. White • Barbara Brown Zikmund • Gordon Tucker • William R. Hutchison • Kosuke Koyama • Glenn T. Miller • Edwin S. Gaustad • Gerald P. Fogarty, S.J. • Gabriel Fackre • Wayne Proudfoot • William Bean Kennedy • Edward LeRoy Long, Jr. • David W. Lotz • Donald W. PRIZES OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CHURCH HISTORY

The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize

The Brewer Prize is a subsidy of $2000 to assist the author in publishing a booklength manuscript in church history. The winning manuscript shall be published in a manner acceptable to the Society. Manuscripts accepted for publication may be submitted for this award, but the winning manuscript must have printed on its title-page, "The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize Essay of the American Society of Church History." If competing works are otherwise of equal quality, preference will be given to topics relating to the history of Congregationalism. Complete manuscripts in final form must be received by William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 328 Deland Avenue, Indialantic, FL 32903, by 1 November each year, with return postage included. The award will be announced at the spring meeting of the Society.

The Philip Schaff Prize

The Schaff Prize is an award in the amount of $1000 to be paid to the author of the best book originating in the North American scholarly community which presents original research in the history of Christianity or any period thereof. Books considered for the next award must have been published during the year 1988 or 1989. Any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration for the Schaff Prize. Copies of books nominated do not have to be submitted. Titles nominated for consideration must be received by William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 328 Deland Avenue, Indialantic, FL 32903, by 1 March 1991. The prize will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in December 1991.

The Sidney E. Mead Prize

The Mead Prize is an award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best unpublished essay in any field of church history written by a doctoral candidate or recent recipient whose manuscript stems directly from doctoral research. The manuscript will be published in Church History. Entries of no more than twenty-five double-spaced pages, including double-spaced endnotes, must be submitted to Richard L. Greaves, Chair, Committee on Research, American Society of Church History, c/o Department of History, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 32306, by 1 July each year. The prize will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in December.

RELIGIOUS CHANGE IN AMERICA

Andrew M. Greeley

Andrew Greeley argues that the upheavals in Protestant and Catholic doctrines and institutions that have affected religious elites have had little influence on most people.

"Greeley has been among the most perceptive and productive analysts of change in American religion. In this book, he analyzes data from forty years and comes up with some surprising findings that all students of religion in America will have to take seriously." —Nathan Glazer, Harvard University

"Greeley shows how careful scholarship can smash widespread but wrongheaded beliefs about religion in the United States."

RUIN THE SACRED TRUTHS

Poetry and Belief from the Bible to the Present

Harold Bloom

In his first book in five years, Harold Bloom majestically surveys the literature of the West from the Old Testament to Samuel Beckett.

"From this strong critic dealing with these strong poets comes a potent mix of insight and prolixity...Bloom has created a way of seeing literature, just as, on a much grander scale, Scholasticism created a way of seeing God or Freud of seeing the self."

THE MELODY OF THEOLOGY

A Philosophical Dictionary

Jaroslav Pelikan

"This is the ultimate bedside book. Replete with sinuous, compact discussions of first and last things...it reflects Pelikan's lifelong commitment to what he calls 'the great new fact of Christianity'...The book works like a tuning fork on the mind." —Thomas D'Evelyn, Christian Science Monitor

REVIVING LIBERTY

Radical Christian
Humanism in Milton's
Great Poems

Joan S. Bennett

Milton's great poems—Paradise Lost, Paradise Regained, and Samson Agonistes—are here examined in the light of his lifelong commitment to the English revolutionary cause. The poems, Bennett shows, reflect the issues Milton had dealt with in theological and public policy debate, foreign diplomacy, and propaganda.

The American Quest for the Primitive Church

Edited by Richard T. Hughes

"A wide-ranging discussion spanning the period between the Puritans and the present, a provocative volume that, concerning the historical consciousness of Protestant Americans, raises questions too compelling for religious historians to ignore." — D. Campbell, Choice. Cloth, $32.50; paper, $12.95.

Diversities of Gifts Field Studies in Southern Religion

Edited by Ruel W. Tyson, Jr.,
James L. Peacock, and
Daniel W. Patterson

"Contains fine sketches of several independent, but representative, Protestant organizations in the South. The focus on a single region, and the focus on most churches that are both 'Protestant' and 'independent,' unifies the subject." — Jeff Titon, author of Powerhouse for God. Illustrated. $21.95.

Religion and American Life Resources

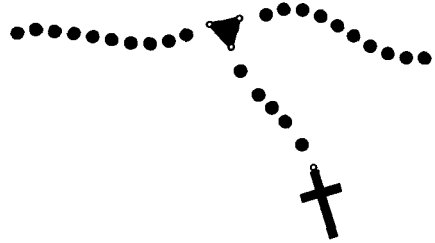

Edited by Anne T. Fraker

"An annotated bibliography of the most significant recent books and articles on religion in American culture. The entries are of high quality, and the volume provides a splendid means of enlarging and enriching our knowledge of a vital component of the American experience." — Winton U. Solberg, author of Redeem the Time. $24.95.

Women with Vision The Presentation Sisters of South Dakota, 1880-1985

Susan Carol Peterson and Courtney Ann Vaughn-
Roberson

"The authors make clear that the Presentations of South Dakota have been and are a dynamic community who have preserved unity and their founder's spirit while attaining needed professionalization for new roles." — Sister Carol J. Berg, Minnesota History. $21.95.

Grace before Meals Food Ritual and Body Discipline in Convent Culture Patricia Curran

"An important and rare piece of research. Sister Patricia Curran's study of convent eating rituals reveals structural aspects of religious community and feminine ascetic ideals." — Diane Christian, director of "Out of Order." $22.95.
