

Cambridge ELT

A Foundation Course for Language Teachers

Tom McArthur

This new, compact course book examines three issues central to present day language teaching: the increasing influence of linguistics, the nature of grammar and its place in language courses and the pressures exerted on language teachers, within educational systems and by fluctuating methodologies. From these themes, the author provides a foundation on which teachers can build their own practical philosophies of language teaching.

Hard covers about £10.95 net
Paperback about £4.95

Publication Autumn 1983

Teaching the Spoken Language

Gillian Brown and George Yule

This book presents, in a highly accessible form, the results of the authors' important research on teaching and assessing effective spoken communication. Firstly, the nature of spoken – as opposed to written – language is examined; then there is a detailed analysis of the principles and techniques for teaching spoken production and listening comprehension. There is an accompanying cassette containing extracts from original source recordings which are transcribed as examples in the book.

Hard covers about £9.95 net
Paperback about £3.95
Cassette about £5.50 + VAT in UK

Publication Autumn 1983

Teaching Listening Comprehension

Penny Ur

This latest addition to the popular Cambridge Handbooks for Language Teachers series defines the characteristics of 'real-life' listening and analyses the problems involved in listening to a foreign language. The author then discusses the pedagogic considerations concerned with planning listening exercises, illustrating them with appropriate examples.

Hard covers about £9.95 net

Cambridge Handbooks for Language Teachers Paperback about £3.95

Publication Autumn 1983

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

The Edinburgh Building, Shaftesbury Road, Cambridge CB2 2RU, England

(ii)

Cambridge ELT

Speaking in Many Tongues

Essays in foreign language teaching
3rd edition

Wilga M. Rivers

A revised edition of a classic collection of essays. Several new papers have been added, some dropped, and all the articles included have been significantly up-dated so that they reflect the author's views on issues of current concern. The author deals with questions fundamental to the work of language teachers; educational goals for foreign language teachers; linguistic and psychological factors in learning; motivation; teacher-student relations; the need for basic change in the role of the university and college language departments.

This book will be essential reading for all teachers and teacher trainers in ELT and other languages.

Hard covers about £14.00 net

Paperback about £5.00

Publication Autumn 1983

Communicating Naturally in a Second Language

Theory and Practice in Language Teaching

Wilga M. Rivers

Aimed at teachers and teacher trainers in ELT and other languages, this important book contains a number of widely quoted articles: 'Talking off the Tops of Their Heads', 'The Natural and the Normal in Language Learning', 'Foreign-Language Acquisition: Where the Real Problems Lie'.

All articles have been revised for publication, some very extensively, so that they reflect the author's up-to-date views in each case.

Publication Autumn 1983

Hard covers about £12.50 net

Paperback about £5.00

Available from all leading ELT booksellers or, in case of difficulty, direct from Cambridge University Press.

If you live in the USA, order from Cambridge University Press, 32 East 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10022. In Canada, order from Centre Educatif et Culturel, 8101 Boul. Métropolitain, Montreal, Quebec H1J 1J9.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

The Edinburgh Building, Shaftesbury Road, Cambridge CB2 2RU, England

Language Teaching

The international abstracting journal for language teachers and applied linguists

is indispensable for everyone concerned with the teaching and learning of foreign languages, including English as a second or foreign language:

- * keeps readers up to date with a minimum expenditure of time and money
- * offers comprehensive cover of the field in a compact and inexpensive form
- * articles from nearly 400 journals from all parts of the world are selected and abstracted by experts
- * international experience published in many languages is made accessible to an English-reading audience
- * information about good practice in classroom teaching and effective language learning, as well as the latest research findings

Published Quarterly

In every issue:

- * a state-of-the-art survey article on a major subject in language teaching
- * up to 150 abstracts in English
- * details of research project in various countries
- * sources of further information for in-depth study – bibliographies and annotations of recent publications.
- * subject and authors indexes

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

The Pitt Building, Trumpington Street, Cambridge CB2 1RP
32 East 57th Street, New York, NY 10022

Printed in Great Britain at the University Press Cambridge