

Editorial Notes

- 1 The editors of JFLS wish to remind readers of their policy of fostering work by young researchers in the field of French language studies. They would ask experienced academics to encourage younger colleagues to submit articles to us, preferably respecting our word-limit of 6,000–8,000 words.
- 2 Articles should be submitted in either English or French; contributors are encouraged to submit articles written in their mother-tongue or stronger language.
- 3 They would like to thank all those who have helped them assess the regular flow of manuscripts submitted for publication. The following have acted in this capacity for Vol. 5, and their invaluable contribution is hereby acknowledged.
