CULTURAL REVOLUTION,
1850–1940

JAMES LIVINGSTON

FOREWORD BY ALAN TRACHTENBERG

“Brilliantly reanimates the vocabulary of American pragmatism and brings into new alignment America’s greatest contribution in philosophy with our economic and social history.”

—Richard Poirier, editor, Raritan Quarterly

“Proposes a brilliant new interpretation of the origins and character of modernity.”

—Alan Trachtenberg, from the Foreword

“A dazzling, innovative interpretation.”

—Michael T. Gilmore, Brandeis University*

ECONOMICS AND PHILOSOPHY

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Submitted articles and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editors, Economics and Philosophy, PO Box 1803, Bath BA2 7YF, UK. Correspondence may also be sent by e-mail to: Economics-and-Philosophy@bristol.ac.uk.

Please use for correspondence only.

Books for review should be sent to the Book Review Editor: Professor Margaret Schabas, Department of Philosophy, York University, 4700 Keele Street, North York, Ontario, Canada M3J 1P3.

Her BITNET address is SCHABAS@NEXUS.YORKU.CA.

The journal publishes papers in English only. However, the editors are willing to consider initial submissions in French, and advise the authors whether to resubmit an English version. The final decision will be made on the basis of the English version only. Please send four copies of submitted articles, in double-spaced type. The copies sent to referees will be anonymous, so the author's name and address should appear on a separate title page and not in the rest of the article. Please also remove other clues to your identity. Repeat the title of the article at the top of the second page. Submitted articles will not be returned to authors.

Preparation of manuscript. A separate title page should be prepared carrying the article title, auxiliary short title (not over 50 characters), author's full name (in the form preferred for publication), and author's affiliation (including full mailing address and phone number).

The entire manuscript (including notes and references) should be typed double-spaced on 8½ by 11 inch or A4 paper, with wide margins for copy editing. Manuscript pages should be numbered consecutively. Authors of accepted articles will be asked to prepare a final version in the journal's style (following the full instructions for contributors that the editors will provide) and to submit it on disk together with a hard copy version.

Figures. If the manuscript is accepted for publication, the author must provide figures that are ready for photographic reproduction; they cannot be redrawn by the publisher, unless the author pays for the cost of such work. Charts, graphs, or other artwork must be drawn by a professional artist or computer generated on a laser printer, in black ink on white paper, and should remain legible after a 50% reduction. All labels and details on figures should be clearly printed (or done in transfer type of a sans-serif face such as Helvetica).

References and notes. Bibliographic citations in the text must include the author's last name and the date of publication and may include page references: (Bryant, 1980, pp. 335–44). When an author's name is part of the text, the following form should be used: "Bryant (1980, pp. 335–44) maintained that" When a work by two or more authors is referred to, all names should be given in the first citation: (Kravis, Heston, and Summers, 1978), with subsequent citations of the form (Kravis et al., 1978). When separate works are referred to within the same parentheses, they should be listed in alphabetical order. Those by the same author should be separated by commas and those by different authors by semicolons: (Fuss and McFadden, 1978; Georgescu-Roegen, 1971, 1976).

Complete bibliographic information for each citation should be included in the list of references. References should be typed in alphabetic order using the style of the following examples:

- Arrow, Kenneth J. 1974. The Limits of Organization. New York: Norton.
- Bryant, John. 1980. "A Model of Reserves, Bank Runs, and Deposit Insurance." Journal of Banking and Finance 4:355–64.
- Fuss, Melvyn, and McFadden, Daniel (editors). 1978. Production Economics: A Dual Approach to Theory and Applications. Amsterdam: North Holland.
- Georgescu-Roegen, 1976. "Chamberlain's New Economics and the Unit of Production." In Monopolistic Competition Theory: Studies in Impact, edited by Robert E. Kuenne, pp. 31–62. New York: Wiley.

Titles of journals may not be abbreviated.

When more than an in-text citation is called for, footnotes may be used. These should be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed at the bottom of the page in which they are cited. Source citations within footnotes follow the same style as citations in text.

Copyediting and proofreading. The publishers reserve the right to copyedit and proofread all articles accepted for publication, but authors will be consulted in the case of any substantial changes. Page proofs of each article will be sent to the lead author for correction of typographical errors only.

General. Submitting an article to Economics and Philosophy implies that it has not been published elsewhere and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. Authors must obtain written permission to publish any material for which they do not own the copyright. They will be asked to assign the copyright of their article, under certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press. Authors of articles will receive 25 offprints of their article free of charge; additional copies may be purchased if ordered at proof stage on the form provided. (In the case of joint contributions, offprints will be sent to the first named author unless otherwise requested.)
