The 2009 Annual Meeting marks the first time APSA has hosted the meeting outside of the United States. The following resources are provided to help attendees in securing the appropriate travel documentation and to make the most out of their visit to Toronto. Check www.apsanet.org/2009 for guides to the most up-to-date travel information.

Travel Tips

- Travel to Canada now requires a passport for U.S. citizens, and possibly visas for international members
- Airline tickets should be issued with the full name on your passport
- International members will need a multiple-entry visa if transiting the U.S. to Canada
- Visit the Travel Security Administration website for latest security requirements, www.tsa.gov
- International members should consider round-trip direct flights to Canada without transiting the U.S.
- Apply for passports and any required visas well in advance of the meeting.

Passport Requirements

U.S. citizens must have a valid passport to enter Canada. Be sure to review the U.S. Department of State guidelines at www.travel.state.gov/travel/cbpmc/cbpmc_2223.html and passport information at www.travel.state.gov/passport.

Attendees holding passports from countries other than the United States should review the Government of Canada visa and documentation requirements at www.canada.gc.ca/home.html.

Correction to "The Importance of Being Early"

There is an error in the January 2008 article in PS titled "The Importance of Being Early: Presidential Primary Front-Loading and the Impact of the Proposed Western Regional Primary" by Travis N. Ridout and Brandon Rottinghaus. The labels in Table 1 are transposed for both the advertising and visits data. The columns labeled "Dem 'oo" should be labeled "Rep 'oo," and the columns labeled "Rep 'oo" should be labeled "Dem 'oo."
