SHEA News and Newsletter, 1999 to 2001

Dear colleagues,

Beginning January 1999, I will have the pleasure of serving as editor of SHEA News and the SHEA Newsletter, a task so excellently done by Murray D. Batt, MD, for the past 3 years.

I joined SHEA during a research fellowship with Dick Wenzel at the University of Iowa in 1992-1993. Exchanging diverse views on infection control and hospital epidemiology with fellows from different countries made that period one of my more stimulating and unique work experiences, motivating me to apply for the editor position.

I am very grateful to the board of SHEA for appointing me as the first non-American newsletter editor, thereby once more establishing SHEA as a truly international society. By joining forces with Sigfrido Rangel-Frausto, MD, MS, Mexico City, Mexico, and Jan Kluytmans, MD, PhD, Breda, The Netherlands, we hope to manifest this unique spirit of international interaction into SHEA News and the SHEA Newsletter.

One of our goals for the upcoming newsletters will be to introduce our readers to some of the international SHEA members and their respective infection control and healthcare epidemiology societies. Because SHEA, as other societies, largely depends on the activity and excellence of its members, we would like to introduce the outstanding ones, such as the SHEA award winners. Because most of us know the more senior VIPs, we will focus on the next generation, such as the SHEA Young Investigator Award winners.

An important request: SHEA News and the SHEA Newsletter can maintain their high standards only if you, the members, will share your plans and thoughts. We encourage you to contact any one of us. In particular, if you chair a committee or serve as a liaison, please help keep us, and thereby our membership, informed of activities in your domain. ## Spotted the Site?

Living in the age of the Internet, we can either be fed up with all of our friends hiding behind their computers or enjoy this great new medium and have a look at infection control sites such as: <http://www.md.ucl.ac.be/entites/esp/hosp/infcon.htm>. This site, maintained by Prof. J.J. Haxhe (haxhe@hosp.ucl.ac.be) at the Catholic University of Louvain, Brussels, Belgium, offers entry to the most important journals on infection control, giving online access to selected abstracts of published articles, updated every 3 months. Since 1994, more than 1,000 abstracts have been made available in a database that can be downloaded or searched using key words, author names, or words in the title or in the abstract.

If you spot another exciting site related to infection control, healthcare epidemiology, or quality assurance, please let us know.

Calendar

We plan to institute a calendar column as a regular feature in the SHEA Newsletter. It will present selected meetings (according to the editor's bias as to what might be interesting); a shortened version will appear in selected issues of SHEA News.

- February 21-24. Ulmer Symposium "Hospital Infections," Ulm, Germany (ed: very interesting, but presented in the German language). For information, contact <http://www.uni-ulm.de/klinik/imi/mikrobio/hygiene99/hygiene.htm>.

- March 21-24. Ninth European Congress of Clinical Microbiology and Infectious Diseases, Berlin, Germany. Info: berlin@cpo-hanser.de.

- April 14. Hospital Infection Society, Spring Meeting, Brighton, UK. Info: <http://www.his.org/main.htm>.

- April 15-16. Annual Meeting of the Society for Hospital Epidemiology of Switzerland (ed: guest speakers include Drs. Kassirer [NEJM] and Wenzel). Info: awidmer@uhbs.ch
