

ROMAN SOCIETY

HUGH LAST AND DONALD ATKINSON FUNDS

Applications for grants are invited for financial assistance towards the undertaking, completion or publication of work that relates to any of the general scholarly purposes of the Roman Society, which are to promote the study of the history, archaeology, literature and art of Italy and the Roman Empire, from the earliest times down to about A.D. 700. In addition, postgraduate students may apply for small grants for visits to conferences and for other research expenses. Grants for the organisation of conferences, colloquia and symposia will be considered only in exceptional circumstances.

Applications, together with two references, should be made before 15 January and sent to the Secretary, Roman Society, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU. It is the responsibility of applicants to arrange for their references to reach the Society by the same date. Application forms may be obtained from the Secretary.

SCHOOLS COMMITTEE

The Society's Schools Committee makes grants to schools to help promote the teaching of Latin and Roman studies. Most of the grants are awarded for the purchase of textbooks and other books on Roman topics, but the Committee also makes awards to groups and schools organising lectures or study days on Roman themes. Applications from schools planning to start courses in Latin are particularly welcome.

The annual budget is c. £6,000, and the usual level of award is £50 to £350. The Committee meets three times a year. Applications should be sent to the Secretary, Roman Society, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU to arrive by 1 February, 1 June or 1 November in any year. There is no special application form, but applicants should provide information about the level of their departmental budget, the type of courses taught, and in the case of applications for books, a list of the books wanted with their prices.

REPRESENTATION AT OVERSEAS CONFERENCES

The Council of the Society invites applications from members to attend a conference of a sister body in another country as an official representative of the Society. The Society is willing to pay up to a maximum of £500 for a single conference, to help cover the conference fee and travel costs. The delegate will be required to submit a report to Council on the state of Roman studies in the country concerned. Preference will be given to a delegate going to a country where the subject may benefit from the Society's representation.

Applications should be sent to the Secretary, at least six months before the conference, for approval by Council.

ARCHAEOLOGY COMMITTEE

The Archaeology Committee was formed in 1993. Its original brief was to organise a regular conference to act 'as a forum where those interested in the archaeology of the Roman Empire and those more specifically concerned with Roman Britain' could come together. This initiative has led to a highly successful series of international, biennial conferences, the first three being held in the Universities of Reading, Nottingham and Durham respectively. The fourth will be in the University of Glasgow from 29 March to 1 April 2001; further details and a booking form will be circulated in September 2000.

The Committee also acts as a conduit through which the Society's advisory role in archaeological matters, as one of the national period societies, can be fulfilled. It considers reports and responds as appropriate. The Committee plans to organise a series of lectures on Roman topics outside London in association with some of the regional societies.

HELLENIC AND ROMAN SOCIETIES

SLIDES COLLECTION

The Slides Collection contains over 6,700 coloured 35 mm slides covering a wide variety of subjects, including sites on the Greek mainland, the Greek islands, Cyprus, Rome, Italy and the Roman Empire, Etruscan tomb paintings, Greek vases, Roman frescoes and mosaics, the Roman army, and Roman Britain. Slides of artefacts form a large part of the collection and include bronzes, jewellery and vases as well as maps, plans, models and reconstructions. A computerised subject index is available. A Greek Slide Catalogue is available at £7, a Roman Slide Catalogue at £6 or both for £11 (postage £1 extra for each catalogue).

Individual slides and sets with notes may be hired by members. Filmstrips are available for sale. Further details may be obtained from the Keeper of Slides or from the web-site: <http://www.sas.ac.uk/icls/library/slides.htm>.

WINNINGTON-INGRAM TRAINEE LIBRARIAN POST

The Joint Library of the Hellenic and Roman Societies, run in conjunction with the library of the Institute of Classical Studies, is recognised as a premier international research library in Classics. A fund has been established in memory of Professor R. P. Winnington-Ingram, formerly Director of the Institute and Professor of Greek at King's College London, to raise £250,000 to secure the annual Library Traineeship in perpetuity. This post helps to keep the Library open six days a week, including Saturdays and evenings, thus catering particularly for readers outside London and its university.

The Fund has already attracted donations of over £210,000. If you would like to help the Fund to reach its final target, please send your contribution to the Librarian, Institute of Classical Studies, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU.

Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU
President: Professor C.J. Rowe

The Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, generally known as the Hellenic Society, was founded in 1879 to advance the study of Greek language, literature, history, art and archaeology in the Ancient, Byzantine and Modern periods. It has done this ever since by various means, chief among them being the annual publication of the Journal of Hellenic Studies and, since the 1950s, its supplement, Archaeological Reports. All members receive both these publications annually. Occasional monographs also appear in the series Supplementary Papers.

The Society also helps to maintain the Joint Library on the third floor of Senate House, in conjunction with the Roman Society and the Institute of Classical Studies. Membership of the Hellenic Society allows the reader to borrow (within the UK) up to four books at a time, either in person or by post. Members may also borrow slides from the Joint Library's extensive collection.

The Society also arranges an annual lecture series in London, holds occasional receptions and other meetings, and helps to arrange other lectures in collaboration with the various local branches of the Classical Association. A programme of all these lectures and other meetings is circulated to UK members in September. The Society holds a list of lecturers on topics in Hellenic Studies, which is supplied to Classical Associations and others to help them plan their own lecture programmes.

The Society aims to help those engaged in Hellenic Studies at all levels, and to this end it makes grants to schools, colleges, universities and individual students.

Membership is open to all, and there is a reduced rate for students. For current subscription rates and all further information please contact: The Secretary, Hellenic Society, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU (telephone +44 (0)20 7862-8730, fax +44 (0)20 7862-8731, e-mail: hellenic@sas.ac.uk, web site <http://www.sas.ac.uk/icls/hellenic/>).

The Classical Association

The Classical Association has a worldwide membership and is open to all who value the study of the languages, literature, and civilisations of ancient Greece and Rome. It creates opportunities for friendly exchange and co-operation among classicists, encourages scholarship through its journals and other publications, and supports classics in schools and universities. Every year it holds an annual conference, and it sponsors branches all over the country which put on programmes of lectures and other activities.

The Classical Association has about 4,000 members. The annual subscription is £5; life membership is £105. Members receive Proceedings of the Classical Association once a year and a newsletter, CA News, twice a year. They may also subscribe at substantially reduced cost to the Classical Association journals Classical Quarterly, Classical Review, and Greece and Rome.

Applications for membership and subscriptions (cheques payable to 'The Classical Association') should be sent to the Administrator, Room 323, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU (tel: 020 7862 8706, fax: 020 7862 8739, e-mail: croberts@sas.ac.uk). The Administrator can also give information about journal subscription rates, and about the Association's other publications, including the Greece and Rome supplements New Surveys in the Classics.

Roman Presences

Receptions of Rome in European Culture, 1789–1945

Edited by Catharine Edwards

Exploring the significance of Rome from the late eighteenth century to 1945, scholars from several disciplines discuss a wide range of images and texts, from statues of Napoleon to Freud's dream analysis. Rome is found to be a fertile paradigm for making sense of history, politics, identity, memory and desire.

Law and Empire in Late Antiquity

Jill Harries

This is the first systematic treatment in English by an historian of the nature, aims and efficacy of public law in the society of the later Roman Empire. Adopting an interdisciplinary approach, the author offers new interpretations of central issues in the study of Roman law - what it was and how effective; contemporary attitudes to torture and punishment; judicial corruption; and the settlement of disputes.

Becoming Roman

The Origins of Provincial Civilization in Gaul

Greg Woolf

This book is a study of the processes conventionally termed Romanisation through an analysis of the experience of Roman rule over the Gallic province of the empire in the period 200 BC – AD 300. It examines how and why Gallo-Roman civilisation emerged from the confrontation between the iron-age cultures of Gaul and the civilisation we call classical.

A HISTORY OF ROME UNDER THE EMPERORS

THEODOR MOMMSEN

Edited by Alexander Demandt, Free University, Germany and Barbara Demandt, Gymnasium for Ancient Languages, Germany

With an introduction by Thomas Wiedemann, University of Nottingham, UK

Translated by Clare Krojzl, Czech Republic

'It is a marvellous book, striking in detail, lucid and pleasingly unfair in argument, deeply sound in its root feelings and prejudices and genuinely helpful. It is years since I came across such a great book.' - Peter Levi,

The Spectator Books of the Year

'This edition, with its extensive notes, is a tremendous achievement and a gift to anyone interested in the full story of the Roman Empire.'

- Contemporary Review

'The editors do a valiant job in their introduction, trying to catch something of the spirit of this extraordinary man.'

- The Independent

Now in paperback, this full and detailed transcript of Mommsen's famous lectures provides an authoritative reconstruction.

ROME AND THE ENEMY

Imperial Strategy in the Principate

Susan P. Mattern

How did the Romans build and maintain one of the most powerful and stable empires in the history of the world? This illuminating book draws on the literature, especially the historiography, composed by the members of the elite who conducted Roman foreign affairs. From this evidence, Mattern reevaluates the roots, motivations, and goals of Roman imperial foreign policy especially as that policy related to warfare.

TEMPLES AND TOWNS IN ROMAN IBERIA

The Social and Architectural Dynamics of Sanctuary Designs, from the Third Century B.C. to the Third Century A.D.

William E. Mierse

In this first comparative study of Roman architecture on the Iberian peninsula, Mierse examines in depth the changing forms of temples and their placement within the urban fabric, and shows that the architecture displays great variation and unexpected connections.

The Barbarians Speak

How the Conquered Peoples Shaped
Roman Europe

Peter S. Wells

The Barbarians Speak re-creates the story of Europe's indigenous people who were nearly stricken from historical memory.

The Celts and Germans inhabiting temperate Europe before the arrival of the Romans left no written record of their lives and were often dismissed as "barbarians" by the Romans who conquered them.

A more accurate, sophisticated picture of the indigenous people emerges, however, from the archaeological remains of the Iron Age. Here Peter Wells allows the reader to rediscover a "lost people." In so doing, he is the first to marshal material evidence of the complexity of pre-Roman settlements, and of the response by the Celts and Germans to the Roman presence in their lands.

"This book . . . has the potential to change the way we look at Europe during the years of the Roman Empire. All historians of the period should read it."—Colin M. Wells, Trinity University

Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies

The Society is the leading organisation in the United Kingdom for those interested in the study of Rome and the Roman Empire. Its scope is wide, covering Roman history, archaeology, literature and art down to about A.D. 700. It has a broadly based membership, drawn from over forty countries and from all ages and walks of life.

The Society supports

- an extensive programme of publication:
 - two annual publications—the Journal of Roman Studies, which contains articles and book reviews dealing with the Roman world in general, and Britannia, which has articles and reviews specifically on Roman Britain
 - two monograph series—the JRS and Britannia monographs (for further details see back page)
- a library of nearly 100,000 volumes and over 540 current periodicals, maintained jointly with the Hellenic Society and in conjunction with the University of London's Institute of Classical Studies. It has an international reputation as one of the world's foremost Classics lending libraries. It also houses a lending collection of over 6,700 slides
- summer schools, etc. by the annual award of grants
- archaeology, through grants for excavations and by organising a biennial conference
- schools, by the award of grants to help the teaching of all aspects of the Roman world
- a programme of public lectures in London, and others outside London arranged with local branches of the Classical Association

Membership is open to all; no entrance fee or professional qualification is required. Members are entitled to:

- receive annually either the JRS or Britannia or both
- receive advance notice of forthcoming monographs at special offer prices
- use the library and borrow the Society's books and slides, either in person or by post, while living or resident in the UK
- attend the Society's lectures, of which a programme is circulated in September
- purchase back issues of the journals (see inside back cover)
