A BLACK BYZANTIUM

The Kingdom of Nupe in Nigeria

By S. F. NADEL. 25s. net

The West African society dealt with in this book is half a million strong. It is far from being either 'simple' or 'primitive'. Its social and economic complexity is comparable only with the civilization of Imperial Rome, Byzantium, or Medieval Europe. But very few historical records exist; the people of Nupe have not yet risen to the stage of education which can produce written records of important events or institutions. The book contains maps and illustrations.

The following African languages are at present being taught at the School:—Amharic, Arabic, Dinka, Efik, Ethiopic, Fante, Ganda, Hausa, Ibo, Kikuyu, Nuer, Nyanja, Shilluk, Shona, Sotho-Chwana, Swahili, Twi, Yoruba, Zande, Zulu-Xhosa, and also Malagasy, the language of Madagascar. Arrangements can generally be made for other languages, if desired.

The Department of AFRICA is carrying on research into the structure of many African languages. Enquiries and co-operation are welcome.

'What a glorious company. Not even the Elizabethan age produced so various and so noble a band as those of our Hanoverian and Victorian periods. No book could be a better unbirth-day present than this, given to mark not a date but affection and admiration. None could read it without having his heart warmed and a chastened pride in his country aroused.'—Time and Tide

'This is a glorious book.'—
