ENCYCLOPEDIA OF Women and Religion IN NORTH AMERICA

Edited by Rosemary Skinner Keller and
Rosemary Radford Ruether

Marie Cantlon, Associate Editor

A fundamental and well-illustrated reference collection for anyone interested in the role of women in North America's vibrant and complex religious life, this volume is the most comprehensive and up-to-date description and analysis of women and religion in North America. An interreligious, interracial, and multicultural collection aimed at a broad general audience, this resource places the religious experience of women into the center of women's and religious history. cloth $325.00 (3 vols.)

JOURNAL OF FEMINIST STUDIES IN RELIGION

INDIANA
University Press
Journals

The Journal of Feminist Studies in Religion, the oldest and most influential interdisciplinary, inter-religious feminist academic journal in religious studies, is a channel for the publication of feminist scholarship in religion and a forum for discussion and dialogue among women and men of differing feminist perspectives. The journal has two parents: the academy, in which it is situated, and the feminist movement, from which it draws its nourishment and vision. Founded in 1985, it is published twice a year in spring and fall.

The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture

★ Volume 1: Religion

EDITED BY SAMUEL S. HILL

Charles Reagan Wilson, General Editor

The first volume of the 24-volume edition that focuses on individual topics from the popular Encyclopedia of Southern Culture, with revised and updated articles and new entries to reflect changes—such as globalization and immigration—that have affected southern culture in the past 20 years. New topics covered in this volume include social activism, Islam, and Asian, Latino, New Age, and Native American religions.

“For well-researched articles by well-respected scholars on important aspects of ‘the religious South,’ this is now the place to begin.”

—Mark A. Noll, author of The Civil War as a Theological Crisis

Sponsored by the Center for the Study of Southern Culture at the University of Mississippi

Romancing God

Evangelical Women and Inspirational Fiction

LYNN S. NEAL

“A bold and perceptive contribution to the study of evangelical views of sexuality, pleasure, relationships, and everyday aesthetics. Beautifully written, this is a first-rate addition to the scholarly literature on evangelicalism and patterns of female devotion.”—R. Marie Griffith, author of Born Again Bodies

264 pp. $45.00 cl / $18.95 pa

The Church in the Barrio

Mexican American Ethno-Catholicism in Houston

ROBERTO R. TREVIÑO

“Exploring both the Catholic Church in the barrio and the activism of barrio Catholics in their church, [Treviño] makes a vital contribution to the growing body of historical scholarship that critically examines Latino/a religion.”—Timothy Matovina, author of Guadalupe and Her Faithful

Jewish Social Studies

is instrumental in advancing the understanding of Jewish life and the Jewish past. Issues of identity and peoplehood, the vistas opened by the integration of gender as a primary category in the study of history, and the multiplicities inherent in the evolution of Jewish societies and cultures around the world and over time are themes of prime interest to the journal. In reconstructing the past, JSS also features work in anthropology, politics, sociology, religion and literature, as well as publishing specific case studies, engaging in theoretical discussion; all of which serve to rechart the boundaries of Jewish historical scholarship.

The Way Things Are

Conversations with Huston Smith on the Spiritual Life

Huston Smith

Edited and with a Preface by Phil Cousineau

"Only a scholar as brave and plain-spoken as Huston Smith would try to produce a single, slim volume that makes sense of the world's vast diversity of faiths....

What's so inspiring is that, after decades of witnessing religious conflict, Smith's enthusiasm for the enduring lessons of faith remains undimmed."
