

Law & Society Review Condensed Style Sheet

Type manuscripts double-spaced on one side of the paper only. While manuscripts need not conform to this style sheet at the time of submission, all manuscripts must include an abstract, footnotes, and a list of references, and all accepted manuscripts must be revised by the authors to conform to the Review's style. The rules listed below supplement the manuscript information on the inside front cover of the Review. Authors are urged to consult Review issues in volume 26 or later for further illustrations. A detailed style sheet is available from the Editorial Office.

1. Abstracts. All manuscripts should include an abstract of not more than 100 words. No abstracts are required for review essays or comments.
2. Footnotes. Footnotes should be numbered sequentially (except for the author's footnote) and printed on pages immediately following the text (not at the foot of the page). They should contain only substantive comments and additional references not immediately relevant to the text.
3. Tables and Figures. Tables should approximate the appearance of printed tables. Figures should be camera ready; provide originals, not xerographic copies. Tables and/or figures should be placed at the end of the text, after footnotes, appendixes, and references. Their location within the text should be indicated as follows:

Table 1 about here

4. Citations. All notes that consist merely of supporting citations should be placed in parentheses in the text. For example:

In a thoughtful essay, Hayden (1991) . . .

OR

Media stories often portray the civil jury as generous (Daniels & Martin 1986:236; Hans 1989; Huber 1988).

The same general rules apply to footnote text.

5. References. References are placed at the end of the manuscript following the footnotes. The list should contain only those sources actually cited in text or notes. Give authors' names as they appear in the original source. For more than one publication by the same author, list them in chronological order, with the older item first. For more than one publication in one year by the same author, use small (lower-case) letters to distinguish them (e.g., 1970a, 1970b).

BOOKS: Last Name, First Name (year) Title of Book. City: Publisher.

Example: Lerner, Melvin J. (1980) Belief in a Just World. New York: Plenum.

CHAPTER IN EDITED VOLUME:

Example: Glazer, Nathan (1979) "The Judiciary and Social Policy," in L. Theberge, ed., The Judiciary in a Democratic Society. Lexington, MA: Lexington Books.

ARTICLES: Last Name, First Name (Year) "Title of Article," volume number Journal initial page of article. (Give month or issue number if each issue is separately paginated.)

Examples: Padgett, John F. (1990) "Plea Bargaining in Prohibition," 24 Law & Society Rev. 413.

Brill, Steven, & James Lyons ((1986) "The Not-So-Simple Crisis," American Lawyer 12 (May).

UNPUBLISHED PAPERS:

Example: Lofquist, William S. (1991) "The Development of Organizational Probation." Presented at American Society of Criminology annual meeting, San Francisco.

All cases cited in text are listed under "Cases Cited" following the References. All statutes cited are listed under "Statutes Cited." For style for cases and statutes, see A Uniform System of Citation.

The Future of Liberal Revolution

Bruce A. Ackerman

In this timely book, a leading legal and political philosopher examines the renewed possibilities for the spread of democratic liberalism now that the Cold War has ended and new orders emerge after the recent revolutions in Eastern Europe.

"This short book is long on wisdom"
—Alan Wolfe $18.50

What Johnny Shouldn't Read

Textbook Censorship in America

Joan DelFattore

"A fascinating account of censorship. ...Her disquieting account is peopled with zealots who believe it is their mission to insulate the young from authors who seek to corrupt their beliefs about God, patriotism, family values, the role of women, and race relations....A highly readable book."—Gene I. Maeroff, The New York Times Book Review $25.00

Freedom of Association

A Study in Labor Law and Political Theory

Sheldon Leader

This book looks at the conflict between two basic rights—the right to join together for a common purpose and the right to refrain from joining. Leader surveys political theories on the nature of association and dissociation, discusses their implications for labor law, and suggests a way to reconcile the conflicting views.

"A broad-ranging and carefully reasoned book. An important intellectual accomplishment that has not been achieved by anyone else."—Julius G. Getman $32.50

New in Paperbound

Sitting in Judgment

The Sentencing of White-Collar Criminals

Stanton Wheeler, Kenneth Mann, and Austin Sarat

This is the first book to describe in detail how federal judges sentence white-collar criminals.

"Unique and invaluable as a resource for social theory, the book is also quite provocative for policy development."—Jack Katz, Contemporary Sociology $13.00
Yale Studies on White-Collar Crime

The Faces of Injustice

Judith N. Shklar

A distinguished political theorist formulates a new political and moral theory of injustice that encompasses not only deliberate acts of cruelty or unfairness but also indifference to such acts.

"A provocative meditation on the meaning and the scope of human injustice."—Martha Nussbaum, The New Republic $10.00
The Storrs Lectures on Jurisprudence

Interpreting the Constitution

The Supreme Court and the Process of Adjudication

Harry H. Wellington

A prominent legal scholar takes a frank and provocative look at how the Supreme Court works and shows how the Court has addressed one of the most controversial political and judicial issues of our time—abortion.

"A constitutional-law lesson as accessible as any now on the bookshelves."—Herbert Mitgang, The New York Times $10.00

The Michigan Journal of Political Science

A University of Michigan Student Journal of Political Studies

The Michigan Journal of Political Science

The Michigan Journal of Political Science is a bi-annual scholarly publication edited by undergraduates at The University of Michigan. For its presentation of noteworthy papers by outstanding students nationwide, the MJPS is regarded as one of the most respected student journals in the country.

The Grace Award

Michigan Journal of Political Science
%620 Haven Hall
The University of Michigan
Ann Arbor, MI 48109-1045

Each year the editorial staff recognizes the best submission to the Journal with the presentation of the Grace Award. This award, established in 1985, honors the late Frank Grace, Professor of Political Science from 1943-83. The recipient of this award receives $500, and is published in the Journal. All undergraduate papers submitted are eligible for this competition.

The editors will consider submissions relating to all aspects of Political Science, including but not limited to: political theory and methodology, world and comparative politics, American government, public policy, history, sociology, and economics.

All submitted articles become the property of the Editorial Board and MJPS.

Administrative Law in a Global Era

ALFRED C. AMAN, JR.

Tracing the evolution of administrative law during the regulatory eras of the New Deal and the environmental period of the 1960s and 70s as well as the current global deregulatory era beginning with the Reagan presidency, Aman illuminates key trends in the interpretation of constitutional and administrative law. "An important, enriching and exciting study of the intersections of law, politics, power and policy."—Victor G. Rosenblum, Northwestern University School of Law. $28.95

The Constitution of Rights

Human Dignity and American Values

EDITED BY MICHAEL J. MEYER
AND WILLIAM A. PARENT

In this collection of original papers, twelve distinguished philosophers and legal thinkers focus on the relationship between our constitutional rights and human dignity. $32.50 cloth, $12.95 paper

Courting Danger

Injury and Law in New York City, 1870–1910

RANDOLPH E. BERGSTROM

To answer the question "Why did New Yorkers take so many more injury suits to the Supreme Court after 1870?" Bergstrom blends social and cultural history with legal scholarship. $32.95

Lawyers' Ideals/ Lawyers' Practices

Transformations in the American Legal Profession

EDITED BY ROBERT L. NELSON, DAVID M.
TRUBEK, AND RAYMAN L. SOLOMON

Eight essays, written by leading scholars in the American legal profession, examine the relationship between changes in the practice of law and the professional ideals of American lawyers.

CREATION AND ABORTION

A Study in Moral and Legal Philosophy

F.M. KAMM, New York University
"A major contribution to the literature."
—Shelly Kagan, University of Illinois at Chicago

Kamm begins by considering in detail the permissibility of killing in non-abortion cases which are similar to abortion cases and goes on to consider the case for the permissibility of abortion in many types of pregnancies, including ones resulting from rape, voluntary pregnancy, and pregnancy resulting from a voluntary sex act.

RESPONSIVE REGULATION

Transcending the Deregulation Debate

IAN AYRES, Stanford Law School; American Bar Foundation, and JOHN BRAITHWAITE, Australian National University

This book transcends current debate on government regulation by lucidly outlining how regulations can be a fruitful combination of persuasion and sanctions. The regulation of business by the United States government is often ineffective despite being more adversarial in tone than in other nations. The authors draw on both empirical studies of regulation from around the world and modern game theory to illustrate innovative solutions to this problem.

SOLICITORS AND DIVORCE

RICHARD INGLEBY, University of Melbourne
This study examines British solicitors' activity in the resolution of matrimonial disputes. Based on data, correspondence, and documents, it provides an in-depth study of how solicitors interact with their clients, the court officials, and each other; and assesses their success in balancing these parties' interests and competing needs.

CHILD VICTIMS
Crime, Impact, and Criminal Justice

JANE MORGAN, University of College of Wales, Aberystwyth, and LUCIA ZEDNER, London School of Economics and Political Science

Filling a serious gap between the literature on victimization and general social policy on children, Child Victims explores the range and extent of crimes committed against children and assesses their impact. For the first time, testimony of over two hundred children gives clear voice to their experiences, views, and needs.
1992 224 pp. $45.00

HELPING VICTIMS OF CRIME

The Home Office and the Rise of Victim Support in England and Wales

PAUL ROCK, London School of Economics

This book examines the evolution of Government policies toward victims of crime in the United Kingdom, and follows the author's View from the Shadows, which detailed official responses to the victims' movement in Canada.
(Oxford Socio-Legal Studies)
1991 464 pp. $89.00

RESERVATION OF TITLE CLAUSES

Impact and Implications

SALLY WHEELER, Keele University
This volume is an empirical analysis of the use of retention of title clauses. It focuses on the work of insolvency practitioners and lawyers in defending and asserting these claims, and examines the negotiating process involved, using this to create a model for out-of-court negotiation and settlement in a commercial context.
