Statement of Purpose

Religion and American Culture: A Journal of Interpretation explores the interplay between religion and other spheres of American culture. The journal embraces a diversity of methodological approaches and theoretical perspectives. Although concentrated on specific topics, articles illuminate larger patterns, implications, or contexts of American life. Religion and American Culture is, thus, devoted to promoting the ongoing scholarly discussion of the nature, terms, and dynamics of religion in America.

Religion and American Culture (ISSN 1052-1151) is published bi-annually by Indiana University Press for the Center for the Study of Religion and American Culture at Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis, which assumes no responsibility for opinions expressed by contributors. Subscriptions are available to institutions at $30.00 per volume and to individuals at $20.00 per volume. Surface postage for subscriptions outside the USA is $7.00 per volume. Single issues are available to institutions at $20.00 each and to individuals at $10.00 each, plus $1.75 per issue for postage. A forty percent discount is available on bulk orders for classroom use or bookstore sales.
