Editors:

Ash Amin, Durham University
Helen Milner, Columbia University
Ronen Palan, Sussex University
Peter Taylor, Loughborough University

The Review of International Political Economy (RIPE), now in its fourth year, has established itself as the leading journal in the field of IPE. Global and interdisciplinary in its approach, it explores international trade, finance, production and consumption in conjunction with issues of culture, identity, gender and ecology. Fully refereed RIPE is an important forum for debates on the changing nature of political economy and the development of a transdisciplinary social science

China's Transition

Andrew J. Nathan

"With this thoughtful reflection on the nature of Chinese authoritarianism and the prospects for it to become more pluralistic and democratic, Nathan has provided us with a fascinating lens through which to view China's evolving political future."

—Orville Schell,
University of California, Berkeley

336 pages • 24 illus. • $27.50, cloth
A Study of the East Asian Institute

Liberalization and Foreign Policy

Miles Kahler, Editor

Liberalization and Foreign Policy covers both economic and political liberalization in nine essays by preeminent scholars who illuminate a new agenda in international relations. With its focus on the vital links between democratization, economic reforms, and foreign policy, this book is indispensable for scholars and students of international affairs.

352 pages • $17.50, cloth

The Liberal Moment

Modernity, Security, and the Making of Postwar International Order

Robert Latham

"The Liberal Moment inquires into the intertwining of internationalism and isolationism and the complex links that tie Western liberalism to militarism. Theorists of international relations will benefit greatly from grappling with the issues this book raises."

—Peter Katzenstein, Cornell University

296 pages • 2 maps • $18.50, paper
New Directions in World Politics, John G. Ruggie, Editor

Sex Among Allies

Military Prostitution in U.S.-Korea Relations

Katharine H. S. Moon

Weaving together issues of gender, race, sex, the relationship between individuals and the state, and foreign policy, Sex Among Allies illustrates how and why Korean prostitutes are marginalized and made invisible in militarily dependent societies, both because of the degradation of their work and because of their importance for national security.

304 pages • 2 maps • $16.50, cloth

The Agony of Algeria

Martin Stone

Examining Algeria's history, from the founding of the Berber kingdoms, 130 years of French rule, and the devastating war for independence to the present, The Agony of Algeria makes intelligible the current crisis tearing at the fabric of the country's society, while offering an analysis of the social, economic, and political changes ahead.

200 pages • $16.50, paper

Street Politics

Poor People's Movements in Iran

Asef Bayat

"Bayat uses sources no one else has ever brought together for the purpose of studying the revolution, and he adds to them both his personal observations and uncommon sensitivity born of his own family background among the 'deprived.'"

—Richard Bulliet,
author of Islam: The View from the Edge

256 pages • $17.50, paper

GAMES BUSINESSES PLAY

Cases and Models

Pankaj Ghemawat

"This is the best kind of advertisement for game theory. Lively, provocative and challenging, it offers a fresh approach to a fascinating array of problems in business strategy." — John Sutton, London School of Economics

"Ghemawat's book draws on evidence from case studies to illuminate a variety of game-theoretic models of competition. The book makes a significant intellectual contribution which will be appreciated by IO economists with an interest in business strategy, as well as by a broader audience." — Marvin B. Lieberman, UCLA

240 pp., 25 illus. $27

SOURCES OF POWER

How People Make Decisions

Gary Klein

This book is based on observations of humans acting under such real-life constraints as time pressure, high stakes, personal responsibility, and shifting conditions, presenting an overview of the research approach of naturalistic decision making and expanding our knowledge of the strengths people bring to difficult tasks.

338 pp., 22 illus. $40

ECO-EFFICIENCY

The Business Link to Sustainable Development

Livio D. DeSimone and Frank Popoff, with the World Business Council for Sustainable Development

"Eco-Efficiency is not about theory: it is about action. Through concrete cases, it shows that with commitment and imagination, both economic benefits and environmental improvements can be achieved." — Jacqueline Aloisi de Larderel, Director, UNEP (United Nations Environment Programme) Industry and Environment

292 pp. $25

Original in Paperback

SHADOWS IN THE FOREST

Japan and the Political Economy of Deforestation in Southeast Asia

Peter Dauvergne

Explores the role of Japanese trade, direct investment, and "development assistance" in the rapid deforestation of Indonesia, East Malaysia, and the Philippines; and develops the intriguing idea of a "shadow ecology" to help understand the effect that one country's trade and financial practices can have on resource management in another country.

Journal of Peace Research

Six issues a year from 1998!

Published under the auspices of IPRA

Edited by Nils Petter Gleditsch and Malvern Lumsden
International Peace Research Institute, Oslo (PRIO)

"...provides scholars and policymakers with theoretically sophisticated and empirically informed analyses of the most timely issues on the global security agenda. The impact on thinking and the evolution of peace studies has been substantial." Charles W. Kegley, Jr., Past President, International Studies Association

The Journal of Peace Research is the leading periodical for scholarly work in peace research, striving for a global focus on conflict and peace-making. It provides a scholarly insight into issues of international conflict, addressing the causes of violence, methods of conflict resolution and ways of sustaining peace. Many articles have developed policy recommendations from their findings. Visit the PRIO homepage:
