RADICAL HISTORY REVIEW

Cambridge
Journals

Editorial Secretary:

Barbara Smith

Smithsonian Institution

Published for MARHO: The Radical Historians' Organization

Radical History Review presents innovative scholarship and commentary that looks critically at the past and its historians from a non-sectarian perspective drawn from the political left. RHR scrutinizes conventional history and seeks to broaden and advance the discussion of crucial issues such as the role of race, class and gender in history. The journal offers original articles; review essays that examine the uses and abuses of history in the popular media, history museums and other public forums; and interviews with leading radical historians. Each volume is illustrated with drawings, cartoons, photographs and other graphic art. Issues are often thematic and cover a wide range of geographic areas and subjects.

Radical History Review (ISSN 0163-6545) is published three times a year. Subscription to Numbers 52-54 (1992): $48.00 for institutions; $24.00 for individuals (outside the USA and Canada, £31 and £17).

NEW from ROUTLEDGE

The History and Philosophy of Social Science
Scott Gordon, Indiana University and Queen's University
Kingston, Ontario

'This book is about what modern social science is and how it came to be what it is. The ideas that we carry around with us have their own history, and his book tells us where these ideas came from.' - James M. Buchanan, George Mason University and Nobel Laureate in Economics.

'Professor Gordon has created a work of rare authority in this riveting and beautifully written history of the social sciences. The book is at once scholarly and popular.' - Mark Blaug

New in Paperback

The Philosophy of Economics
On the Scope of Reason in Economic Inquiry
Subroto Roy, University of Hawaii

'... a masterpiece not only in economic analysis, but in philosophic analysis as well. Dr Roy brings to the subject a clarity, originality and suggestiveness rarely found in contemporary thought' - Sidney Hook, New York University.

Verification in Economics and History

A Sequel to 'Scientification'
O.F. Hamouda and B.B Price, both of Glendon College,
York University, Ontario

Can statements in economics and history have the status of scientific law?

Verification in Economics and History critically examines the concept and practice of verification, arguing that both disciplines would be enriched by an enlarged sense of what is involved in verification.

Economics and Hermeneutics

Edited by Don Lavoie, George Mason University, Virginia
Economics and Hermeneutics looks at the ways that hermeneutics might help economists address problems such as entrepreneurship, price theory, rational expectations, monetary theory, welfare economics, and economic policy.

SOCIAL PHILOSOPHY & POLICY

Editor:

Ellen Frankel Paul

Associate Editors:

Fred D. Miller, Jr. and Jeffrey Paul
*Social Philosophy and Policy Center,
Bowling Green State University*

Social Philosophy & Policy is an interdisciplinary journal with an emphasis on the philosophical underpinnings of enduring social policy debates. The issues are thematic in format, examining a specific area of concern with contributions from scholars in philosophy, economics, political science and law. While not primarily a journal of policy prescriptions, articles typically connect theory with practice. Upcoming topics include: Economic Rights; The Good life and the Human Good; Altruism; Liberalism and the Economic Order; Cultural Pluralism and Moral Knowledge.

Social Philosophy & Policy (ISSN 0265-0525) is published twice a year. Subscription to Volume 9 (1992): $70.00 for institutions; $28.00 for individuals (outside the USA and Canada, £48 and £18).

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Article contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to Economics and Philosophy, Department of Economics, Fernald House, Williams College, Williamstown, MA 01267, U.S.A. The journal's editorial office may also be accessed at BITNET address

SMONTGOMERY@WILLIAMS
or at ARPANET address

SMONTGOMERY@VAX.CS.WILLIAMS.EDU
Please use for correspondence only.

Authors should send four copies of their manuscript and reserve one copy for their use in checking proofs. Articles must be in English. Spelling, capitalization, and punctuation must be consistent within each article and conform with the Thirteenth Edition of The Chicago Manual of Style (University of Chicago Press).

Books for review should be sent to the Book Review Editor: Professor Margaret Schabas, Department of Philosophy, York University, 4700 Keele Street, North York, Ontario, Canada M3J 1P3. Her BITNET address is

SCHABAS@NEXUS.YORKU.CA.

Preparation of manuscript. A separate title page should be prepared carrying the article title, auxiliary short title (not over 50 characters), author's full name (in the form preferred for publication), and author's affiliation (including full mailing address and phone number). Because blind reviewing will be employed, authors are asked to identify themselves only on the title page.

The entire manuscript (including notes and references) should be typed double-spaced on 8½ by 11 inch or A4 paper, with wide margins for copy editing. Manuscript pages should be numbered consecutively.

Figures. If the manuscript is accepted for publication, the author must provide figures that are ready for photographic reproduction; they cannot be redrawn by the publisher, unless the author pays for the cost of such work. Charts, graphs, or other artwork must be drawn by a professional artist or computer generated on a laser printer, in black ink on white paper, and should remain legible after a 50% reduction. All labels and details on figures should be clearly printed (or done in transfer type of a sans-serif face such as Helvetica).

References and notes. Bibliographic citations in the text must include the author's last name and the date of publication and may include page references: (Bryant, 1980, pp. 335–44). When an author's name is part of the text, the following form should be used: "Bryant (1980, pp. 335–44) maintained that" When a work by two or more authors is referred to, all names should be given in the first citation: (Kravis, Heston, and Summers, 1978), with subsequent citations of the form (Kravis et al., 1978). When separate works are referred to within the same parentheses, they should be listed in alphabetical order. Those by the same author should be separated by commas and those by different authors by semicolons: (Fuss and McFadden, 1978; Georgescu-Roegen, 1971, 1976).

Complete bibliographic information for each citation should be included in the list of references. References should be typed in alphabetic order using the style of the following examples:

Arrow, Kenneth J. 1974. The Limits of Organization. New York: Norton.

Bryant, John. 1980. "A Model of Reserves, Bank Runs, and Deposit Insurance." Journal of Banking and Finance 4:355–64.

Fuss, Melvyn, and McFadden, Daniel (editors). 1978. Production Economics: A Dual Approach to Theory and Applications. Amsterdam: North Holland.

Georgescu-Roegen, 1976. "Chamberlain's New Economics and the Unit of Production." In Monopolistic Competition Theory: Studies in Impact, edited by Robert E. Kuenne, pp. 31–62. New York: Wiley.

Titles of journals may not be abbreviated.

When more than an in-text citation is called for, footnotes may be used. These should be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed at the bottom of the page in which they are cited. Source citations within footnotes follow the same style as citations in text.

Copyediting and proofreading. The publishers reserve the right to copyedit and proofread all articles accepted for publication, but authors will be consulted in the case of any substantial changes. Page proofs of each article will be sent to the lead author for correction of typographical errors only.

General. The lead author will receive 25 offprints of his or her article free of charge; additional numbers may be purchased if ordered at proof stage. Submission of an article implies that it has not been published elsewhere. Authors are responsible for obtaining written permission to publish material for which they do not own the copyright. Contributors will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press.
