

Religion in America is a many-splendored thing.

In the Trenches with Jesus and Marx

Harry F. Ward and the Struggle for Social Justice
DAVID NELSON DUKE

This absorbing and insightful biography illuminates the life of the controversial champion of Social Gospel in early 20th-century America.

*"The author has struck a wonderful balance.
He presents Ward, warts and all; but he reveals the idealism that drove Ward and the depth of social and intellectual passion that motivated him. . . . The story of Ward's interaction with Reinhold Niebuhr and George Coe is extraordinarily moving."*

Two Thousand Years Ago

THE WORLD AT THE TIME OF JESUS

Charles A. Frazee

“If a newspaper with world coverage had been available in Nazareth two millennia ago, what would Jesus, a bright teenager there, have read in it? What else was going on in various parts of the world at his time? In these pages Charles Frazee provides some intriguing answers. To cover most of the world at the time of Christ would seem a daunting if not impossible task, yet Frazee accomplishes just that. This book is a delightful combination of fine research and graceful writing.”

New from Princeton

The Founding Fathers and the Place of Religion in America Frank Lambert

"Lambert has crafted an excellent survey on religion and the state in early America—deft, succinct, and well researched. With crystal clear prose, Lambert offers a wonderfully lucid text for general readers and students, yet one also studied with insights of great profit to historians of American religion and culture."

—Leigh E. Schmidt, Princeton University

For the Glory of God

How Monotheism Led to Reformations, Science, Witch-Hunts, and the End of Slavery

Rodney Stark

Continuing his project of identifying the widespread consequences of monotheism, Rodney Stark shows that the Christian conception of God resulted—almost inevitably and for the same reasons—in the Protestant Reformation, the rise of modern science, the European witch-hunts, and the Western abolition of slavery. For the Glory of God fundamentally changes our understanding of religion's role in history and the forces behind much of what we point to as secular progress.

Jonathan Edwards's Philosophy of History

The Reenchantment of the World in the Age of Enlightenment
Avihu Zakai

Avihu Zakai analyzes Jonathan Edwards's redemptive mode of historical thought in the context of the Enlightenment. Offering the first such analysis, Zakai considers Edwards's historical thought as a reaction, in part, to the varieties of Enlightenment historical narratives and their growing disregard for theistic considerations.

"This is a very learned piece of scholarship."

Awards of the American Society of Church History:

The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize, offered annually, is a subvention fund of $1,000 to assist a press in publishing a book-length manuscript in church history. The prize is limited to first books. The monetary grant will be made upon receipt of a commitment in writing from a publisher accepting the manuscript. Entries in their final form must be received by 1 November.

The Albert C. Outler Prize is an award in the amount of $1,000 to the author of the best book published in the two previous calendar years in ecumenical church history. "Ecumenical" is to be construed as concerned chiefly with problems of Christian unity and disunity (doctrinal, cultural, institutional) or with interactions between Christianity and other religious movements in any historical period. Authors of eligible books or any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration; authors should submit a copy of the book. Nominations must be received by 1 March in even-numbered years.

The Philip Schaff Prize is an award in the amount of $1,000 to the author of the best book published in the two previous calendar years, originating in the North American scholarly community and presenting original research on any period in the history of Christianity. Authors of eligible books or any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration; authors should submit a copy of the book. Nominations must be received by 1 March in odd-numbered years.

The Jane Dempsey Douglass Prize is an annual award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best essay published during the previous calendar year on any aspect of the role of women in the history of Christianity. Authors of eligible articles and any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration. Nominations, accompanied if possible by a copy of the article, must be received by 1 August.

The Sidney E. Mead Prize, offered annually, is an award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best unpublished essay in any field of church history written by a doctoral candidate or recent graduate whose manuscript stems directly from doctoral research. The manuscript will be published in Church History. Entries of no more than twenty-five double-spaced pages, including double-spaced endnotes, must be submitted by 1 July.

A work may be submitted for only one ASCH competition. For more information, or to nominate a book or submit a manuscript, write to the American Society of Church History, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701.

Church History: Studies in Christianity and Culture is published four times per year (March, June, September, and December) by the American Society of Church History. Membership dues for individuals in the U.S. and Canada are $50 per year for regular members, $25 per year for retired persons, and free for two years for students with the approval of a professor who is a member of the Society (after two years, students pay $25 annually until graduation). Dues for individuals in other countries are $75 per year for regular members, $30 per year for retired persons and students (with the same two-year gratis stipulations). Institutional subscriptions are $75 per year in the U.S. and Canada, $100 per year in all other countries. Single issues are $25 each. Please make remittances payable to "American Society of Church History."
