

GOLDEN FETTERS

The Gold Standard and the Great Depression, 1919-1939

BARRY EICHENGREEN, University of California, Berkeley

"A tour de force, by the outstanding contemporary scholar of the 20th century history of the international monetary system."—John Williamson, Senior Fellow, Institute for International Economics. "Eichengreen's book provides new and insightful analyses of how the gold standard worked and its role in the economic crisis of the interwar years."—David Hale, Chief Economist and Senior Vice President, Kemper Financial Corporation
1992 480 pp.; illus. $39.95

MARXISM AND THE CITY

IRA KATZNELSON, The New School for Social Research

"An imaginative, exhilarating, and critically argued survey of the contribution of marxist-influenced writings to our understanding of the development of modern western cities and to the ways they constituted and were constituted by statebuilding and the development of modern capitalism."—Steven Lukes, European University Institute, Florence. In this work, Katznelson critically analyzes the development of Marxist scholarship on cities in the last quarter century.

1992 336 pp. $39.95

New in paperback!

THEORISTS OF ECONOMIC GROWTH FROM DAVID HUME TO THE PRESENT

With a Perspective on the Next Century

W. W. ROSTOW, University of Texas

"This is the rich and illuminating work we expect from the pen of Professor Rostow, as one of the persons most knowledgeable about both economic growth and the history of economic ideas. No one who works in these fields can afford to overlook this book."—William J. Baumol, Director, C.V. Starr Center for Applied Economics. Looking at the economic growth theories of the classic economists up to 1870, Rostow compares Hume and Adam Smith, Malthus and Ricardo, and J.S. Mill and Karl Marx.

1990 (paper 1992) 736 pp.; illus.
paper $19.95 cloth $48.00

POVERTY AND DEVELOPMENT IN THE 1990s

Edited by TIM ALLEN and ALAN THOMAS, both at the Open University

After presenting the basic elements of poverty and development, the book provides an historical background to the development of the Third World. It includes discussion of the changing political order of the world, gender relations, technology, and culture.

1992 432 pp.; illus.
paper $22.00 cloth $59.00

SOFT COAL, HARD CHOICES

The Economic Welfare of Bituminous Coal Miners, 1890-1930

PRICE V. FISHBACK, University of Arizona

"First-rate economics and first-rate history, the yield of ten years of mining. It uses a remarkable range of sources to retell the story of coal, from miner's letters to advanced econometrics. The evidence is overwhelming that the miners were not pathetic victims portrayed in some folklore but tough men with hard choices. Anyone who wants to understand American labor and industrial history needs to get it and read it. It's a lesson in economics and a course in history, an instant classic in the field."

—Donald N. McCloskey, The University of Iowa
While most studies of labor in the coal industry focus on the struggle to organize unions, this work offers a more diverse and quantitative examination of the labor market.

1992 296 pp.; illus. $39.95

INTERNATIONAL BANKING 1870-1914

Edited by RONDO CAMERON, Emory University, and V.I. BOVYKIN, Professor, Institute of History, USSR

This book, the product of a unique international scholarly collaboration sponsored jointly by the American Council of Learned Societies and the Soviet Academy of Sciences, provides a comprehensive survey on international banking from 1870 to 1914. In that period international investment reached dimensions previously unknown, and the banking systems of the world achieved a degree of internationalization also without precedent.

1992 672 pp.; illus. $80.00

FORTRESS CALIFORNIA, 1910-1961

From Warfare to Welfare

ROGER W. LOTCHIN, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

"This is a great and ground-breaking work of urban history that totally revises our understanding of the social roots of the military-industrial complex."—Terrence J. McDonald, The University of Michigan. Urbanization and wars have been two of the most important continuities in modern history. This book explains how the two became connected by describing the origins and historic development of the military-industrial complex in the California urban heartland.

1992 440 pp.; illus. $45.00

*Prices are subject to change and apply only in the U.S.
To order, send check or money order to:
Social Sciences Marketing, Dept. KLH
To order by phone using major credit cards
please call 1-800-451-7556*

Oxford University Press
200 Madison Avenue • New York, NY 10016

TURN TO CAMBRIDGE

A Domestic History of the Bank of England, 1930-1960

Elizabeth Hennessy

This book describes the working methods of the various departments of the Bank of England and their development in the years 1930 to 1960, a period of unparalleled change for the Bank. It is based on the Bank's own archives and material, to which the author has had unrestricted access and which have been previously unpublished.

39140-7 Hardcover $125.00

Hollywood's Overseas Campaign

The North Atlantic Movie Trade, 1920-1950

Ian Jarvie

This history of how the American film industry succeeded in dominating the film markets of Canada and Great Britain in the period 1920-1950 shows how efficiently it operated internationally.

Cambridge Studies in the History of Mass Communications

41566-7 Hardcover $65.00

The London Hanged

Crime and Civil Society in the Eighteenth Century

Peter Linebaugh

"Contesting the current view of the eighteenth century as that of a prospering consumer society, and revealing its polar opposite in the desperate poverty and strategies for survival of the labouring people of the growing imperial metropolis, The London Hanged gives us exceptional insights, pitiless and without moralising, into the conditions of labouring life among those whom consumer society consumed." —E.P. Thompson

41842-9 Hardcover $44.95

Notes on Malthus's Measure of Value

David Ricardo

Pier Luigi Porta, Editor

This book is a companion volume to the Royal Economic Society edition of the Works and Correspondence of David Ricardo, edited by Piero Sraffa with the collaboration of Maurice Dobb. It completes the record on Ricardian value theory by showing Ricardo's reaction to Malthus's pamphlet The Measure of Value Stated and Illustrated of 1823.

40298-0 Hardcover $34.95

The English Rural Community

Image and Analysis

Brian Short, Editor

This inter-disciplinary perspective on the realities that lie behind the myths and images of rural England is offered by examining such central issues as development, migration, labor patterns, religious practice and the rural labor force.

Contributors: Brian Short, Joan Thirsk, Malcolm Kitch, Alun Howkins, John Barrell, Stuart Laing, John Lowerson, Peter Ambrose, Susan Wright.

40537-8 Hardcover $59.95

40567-X Paper $22.95

The United States as a Developing Country

Studies in U.S. History in the Progressive Era and the 1920s

Martin J. Sklar

These seven essays are primarily concerned with the U.S. as a developing country in the early twentieth century—undergoing stages of development from competitive capitalism to corporate capitalism, and from industrial to "postindustrial" society.

40060-0 Hardcover $49.95

40922-5 Paper $14.95

Available at bookstores or from

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

40 West 20th Street, New York, NY 10011-4211
Call toll free 800-872-7423. MasterCard/VISA[®] accepted. Prices subject to change.

FOR ECONOMIC HISTORY

New Silk Roads

East Asia and World Textile Markets

Kym Anderson, Editor

For centuries Asia supplied the textile factories of Europe with natural fibers, including silk from East Asia via the so-called Silk Road. Now by contrast, East Asia exports virtually no natural fibers and instead is the world's most important exporter of manufactured textile products and chief importer of fibers. The book demonstrates that despite the import barriers erected by advanced economies, textiles and clothing production continue to serve as an engine of growth for developing economies seeking to export their way out of poverty.

39278-0 Hardcover $49.95

Merchant Enterprise in Britain

From the Industrial Revolution to World War I
Stanley Chapman

This survey of the mercantile sector of the economy from the end of the eighteenth century to World War I complements Dr. Chapman's Rise of Merchant Banking (1984), concentrating on the various ways in which British merchants responded to the unprecedented opportunities of the Industrial Revolution and the growth of the British Empire.

35178-2 Hardcover $69.95

Canada and the Gold Standard

Balance of Payments Adjustments Under Fixed Exchange Rates, 1871-1913

Trevor J.O. Dick and John E. Floyd

In this reexamination of Canada's balance of payments experience under the gold standard, the authors develop and empirically test a new portfolio approach to the mechanism of balance of payments adjustment. This adjustment mechanism responded to massive inflows of foreign capital during a critical period of Canada's economic growth in the early years of this century.

Studies in Monetary and Financial History

40408-8 Hardcover $49.95

An Island for Itself

Economic Development and Social Change in Late Medieval Sicily

Stephan R. Epstein

The medieval southern Italian economy is commonly interpreted as having been dependent on foreign trade; and this dependence is held in turn to have led to economic backwardness in the Italian south. In this study of late medieval Sicily, Dr. Epstein develops a critique of theories of dependence through trade, and a new interpretation of the late medieval economy.

Past and Present Publications

38518-0 Hardcover $89.95

Regulating Big Business

Antitrust in Great Britain and America
1880-1990

Tony Freyer

A primary focus of public discourse was anti-trust. This book explores the development of big business from 1880 to 1990 in a comparative context. It shows that government policies influenced the point at which managerial capitalism prevailed first in America, then in Britain, and that the search for these policies reflected the adjustment of the business order to changing economic conditions.

35207-X Hardcover $59.95

Transition to Modernity

Essays on Power, Wealth, and Belief

John A. Hall and I.C. Jarvie, Editors

This set of essays is concerned with the explanation of large scale social change. Concentration is on the social stagnation characteristic of agrarian circumstances, the conditions for exit from that world, and the varied social orders that inhabit, sometimes precariously, the modern world community.

Contributors: Colin Renfrew, A.M. Khazanov, E.A. Wrigley, Karl R. Popper, Alan MacFarlane, Michael Mann, Ron Dore, Perry Anderson, Joseph Agassi, John Watkins, I.C. Jarvie, Louis Dumont, John Dunn, Gerard Radnitzky, Jose Merquior, John A. Hall.

38202-5 Hardcover $54.95

Oxford

"A tour de force"—now in a new edition!

A Concise Economic History of the World Second Edition

RONDO CAMERON, Emory University

Praise for the first edition:

"A tour de force....An astonishing wealth of detail on many topics, from the manorial system to the recovery and integration of western Europe after World War II. The narrative passages have much to teach the general reader and will also prove useful to teachers who find it hard to pick and choose. Many are models of exposition: learned, lucid, readable, and appositely, illustrated."

—Journal of Economic Literature

"Comprehends much of what we know about the history of the world economy....Well-written, clearly organized, and easy to read. Topics are treated logically, and there is a bibliographic essay that points readers toward the classic works in the field."—Journal of Interdisciplinary History

"An excellent survey of the development of the global economy, especially as this relates to the Western world....The country studies are detailed and include all of Europe, not just western Europe; they would work very well in a course on European economic history or on comparative economic development."

—Technology and Culture

"A thorough and teachable treatment of economic history and economic development."—Martin Bronfenbrenner, Duke University

The second edition of this comprehensive economic history of the world from paleolithic times to the present offers new material on the non-European world and includes a new chapter on the world economy since the first oil crisis of the early 1970s. Grounded in economic theory but written in nontechnical language and a predominantly narrative style, it places the contemporary world economy in broad historical perspective for students of economic history and development.

January 1993 464 pp.; 77 photos, maps paper $19.95 cloth $44.95

Now in a new edition!

A Financial History of Western Europe Second Edition

CHARLES P. KINDLEBERGER, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

The second edition of this survey of European financial history is brought up-to-date to span from the earliest times to the present. It offers an introduction, chronologies, and comprehensive discussions of the evolution of money in Western Europe, bimetallicism and the emergence of the gold standard, the banking systems of the Continent and the British Isles, and overviews of foreign investment, regional and global financial integration, and private and public finance in Western Europe.

March 1993 576 pp.; 15 illus. paper $29.95 cloth $49.95

Prices and publication dates are subject to change. To request an examination copy, write on school letterhead giving full course information, including course name, level, expected enrollment, and your decision deadline, to

Oxford University Press

ATTN: College Sales Coordinator

200 Madison Avenue • New York, NY 10016