Journal of Linguistics

The Journal of the Linguistics Association of Great Britain

Editors

Kersti Börjars, University of Manchester, UK
S.J. Hannahs, Newcastle University, UK

Associate Editors

Robert D. Borsley, University of Essex, UK
Helen de Hoop, Radboud University Nijmegen, The Netherlands

Journal of Linguistics has as its goal to publish articles that make a clear contribution to current debate in all branches of theoretical linguistics. The journal also provides an excellent survey of recent linguistics publications, with around thirty book reviews in each volume and regular review articles on major works marking important theoretical advances.

'For the two decades that I've been a faithful reader of the Journal of Linguistics, I have been impressed by the consistent quality, breadth, and liveliness of its articles and reviews. JL neither specializes in one branch of linguistic theory to the neglect of others nor presents a single theoretical face to the world.' Larry Horn, Yale University

Surveys and Studies

Editor

Graeme Porte, University of Granada, Spain

Language Teaching is the essential research resource for language professionals providing a rich and expert overview of research in the field of second-language teaching and learning. It offers survey articles on specific topics, languages and countries, and invites original research articles reporting on replication studies and meta-analyses. The journal also includes regional surveys of doctoral dissertations, topic-based research timelines and articles based on plenary conference speeches. Research-in-progress reports, themed book review articles and a list of publications received complement the content of each issue. A thorough peer-reviewing procedure applies to both the commissioned and the unsolicited articles. Language Teaching is also included in the all-time favourite Annual Review of Research.

Phonology

Editors

Colin J. Ewen, University of Leiden

Ellen M. Kaisse, University of Washington

Phonology, published three times a year, is the only journal devoted exclusively to the discipline, and provides a unique forum for the productive interchange of ideas among phonologists and those working in related disciplines.

Preference is given to papers which make a substantial theoretical contribution, irrespective of the particular theoretical framework employed, but the submission of papers presenting new empirical data of general theoretical interest is also encouraged.

The journal carries research articles, as well as book reviews and shorter pieces on topics of current controversy within phonology.
